VICTIMS OF IROQUOIS NUMBER TWENTY-ONE

W. and P. Green, Mrs. Green, George Webber and a Chinaman Added to the List—Sydney Clark's Body Recovered To-Day—Marine Department Orders Strict Inquiry.

That the number of passengers lost on the Iroquois was greater than sixteen is shown as inquiries are made for people who were to have been passengers on the steamer Monday morning when the wreck occurred off Sidney in a 90-mile gale.

Sixteen tickets are said to have been sold, but three people did not take passage owing to doubts of the vessel's safety on their arrival at Sidney by the morning train. With thirteen remaining and the crew of twelve, only twenty-five people would have to be accounted for.

Unfortunately the roster bring the total now to thirty-four—saved ten, missing eleven, recovered bodies 10 and three who did not board the ship. The death roll numbers twenty-one. The list is as follows:

Bodies Recovered.
Miss Isabelle Fenwick,
Messiah Phillips,
John Brydson,
Jan Bactaren,
Sydney A. Clark,
A. D. Munro, purser,
Herbert Hartnell, steward,
Andrew Olsen, fireman,
Tom Chan Lung, Chinese cook,
Fong Yee Sim, dishwasher.

Missing.
Miss Edith Fenwick,
Mrs. Evan Hooson and son,
Mr. Prophet,
William Aitken,
George Webber,
Mr. and Mrs. William Green,
P. Green,
D. N. Davidson, deckhand, Unknown Chinaman.

Miss Margaret Barton, 313 Cook Street.
H. S. Moss, 1145 Yates street.
Henry E. Hartnell, C. P. R. freight office.
John Bennett,
Capt. A. A. Sears, Sidney,
John Isbister, mate,
W. Thompson, chief engineer,
Joe Phillips, deckhand,
Prosper David, deckhand,
John David, deckhand.

Five Other Victims.
Among the additional ones now known to have gone aboard the steamer are George Webber, of Pittsburg, Pa., who in company with Messiah Phillips was on the way to Pender Island and to install machinery in the brickyard there. He was about 40 years of age, and was employed last summer at the Atlantic hotel and came from Pender Island on Saturday last.

William Green and his wife, and P. Green, his brother, were aboard. They came from Rochdale, England, and stopped at 1046 Yates street, where their luggage now is. They left on Monday morning for Gabriola Island with a view of settling there, and left their luggage at the Yates street boarding house till they became settled.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and the brother called upon J. T. Deaville on Saturday last with a letter of introduction from Wm. Brierley, brassfounder, of Rochdale. Mr. Green then stated that he had engaged with a farmer on Gabriola Island to work for him until he got acquainted with the ways of the country, and that later he intended to purchase a home for himself. Mrs. Green's brother in Rochdale is a valued employee at Mr. Brierley's foundry.

Chinamen at Sidney say that a Chinaman went aboard as a passenger at that place, bound for Pender Island. This morning Constable O'Hara, in Mr. Bittancourt's launch, found the body of Sydney A. Clark, of Colwood, in six feet of water at Mary Island. Clark, with Moss, Bennett and Mate Isbister, had drifted almost to shore on a rude raft of wreckage. The others scrambled off and threw a rope to Clark. He was apparently too exhausted to grasp it and just then a wave rolled the bit of wreckage over and he was lost.

This morning another mail-bag was picked up, that for South Saanich, which was found in Schwartz Bay.

On Monday morning, when the rescued were being identified at the home of Captain Curtis, the belongings of Miss Margaret Barton gave evidence of her identity, but when asked her name when she recovered consciousness she twice gave it as Margaret McFarlane. Hence the publication of both names in the list of saved. It is now known that Miss Barton and "Miss McFarlane" are the same person.

Inquest Adjourned.
The inquest, which opened at Sidney yesterday morning, adjourned one week after hearing all the available witnesses. There are still a number to be heard, among them Henry E. Hartnell, a passenger, John Is-

Montreal, April 12.—W. R. MacInnes, freight traffic manager of the C. P. R., today announced that the reorganization of the company's freight traffic department for Eastern lines, which has been in progress for some time, is completed. W. R. Bulling will continue to hold the position of assistant freight traffic manager at Montreal, but in future his duties will be general supervision over all matters pertaining to rates and divisions and all matters under the jurisdiction of the railway commission and transcontinental freight bureau. Wm. Kirkpatrick, who has been the general freight agent at Toronto, will come to Montreal to take up a new office that will relieve Mr. Bulling to a considerable extent. He will be local general freight agent, in charge of solicitation of freight traffic and of interchange with connecting lines. M. H. Brown, of the freight department of Toronto, has been promoted to take Mr. Kirkpatrick's place in that city as local division freight agent.

London, April 12.—The chamber of commerce are resolved to ask Premier of the Overseas Dominions to join in condemnation of the declaration of London.

WEST INDIES CABLE SERVICE.

SEEKING DIRECT LINE WITH CANADA
Dominion Delegates May Introduce Subject at Imperial Conference

(Special to the Times.)
Manchester, April 12.—The Manchester Guardian understands that the Canadian representatives at the Imperial conference will raise the question of direct cable communication between Canada and the West Indies. It has already been considered by the home government which holds strongly that there ought to be cheap telegraphic facilities, especially as lately complaints have been made from the West Indies regarding false news of home affairs constantly telegraphed there out of London.

NEW YORK FACTORY OWNERS INDICTED.

Accused of Manslaughter in Connection With Recent Catastrophe

New York, April 12.—The first civil action to recover damages for loss of life in the Washington Place fire, which resulted in 145 deaths, has been brought in the State Supreme court here against the indicted proprietors of the Triangle Waist Company. The suit is brought by Louis Mankofski, father of Rose Mankofski, 22 years old, one of the girl operators. He asks for $50,000 damages.

Isaac Harris and Max Black, owners of the Triangle Waist Company, were indicted yesterday afternoon by the grand jury investigating the fire. The indictments, four in number, charge each man with manslaughter in the first and second degrees, the maximum penalty for which is 20 and 10 years' imprisonment respectively. Harris and Black were arrested at their homes, arraigned and after entering pleas of not guilty, were released under $25,000 bail.

The defendants are charged with being responsible for the death of Rosie Grasso and Margaret Schwartz, whose charred bodies were found on the ninth floor of the burned building. The district attorney hopes to prove that the girls tried the door on the ninth floor in an effort to escape, but found it locked. A charred piece of door was shot as well as part of the burned stairway. A few minutes afterward the indictments were returned. Other indictments may follow. Judge O'Sullivan gave the defendants until April 25 to withdraw their plea of not guilty. Both men took their arrest calmly.

CARNEGIE TRUST COMPANY.

New York, April 12.—Three involuntary petitions in bankruptcy aggregating $13,500,000 were entered here today against three officers, William J. Cummins, president, Charles Arthur Moore, jr., and Martin J. Condon, directors of the failed Carnegie Trust Company, now in the hands of the state superintendent of banks. The liabilities of the company are given as $5,000,000, and assets $400,000 for the first file, and liabilities $2,000,000 and assets $500,000, and liabilities $100,000 and assets $500,000 for the second and third files respectively.

LIBERALS RALLY AROUND SMOKER.

GREAT MEETING HELD BY WARDS FOUR AND FIVE

Fine Fighting Speeches Delivered by Officers—Drury

Liberals of Wards Four and Five were on foot last night in the A. O. U. W. hall on Yates street. The occasion was a united smoker given by the joint committees of the two organizations. The popularity of these organizing functions was demonstrated last night by the generous donations of the audience which filled the hall comfortably, and by the unstinted interest and enthusiasm that was displayed throughout the entire proceedings.

A series of instructive speeches diversified a finely-arranged musical programme, and the result attained was both educative and entertaining. The evening was divided into two portions, the first being presided over by Dr. A. A. Humber, a vice-president of ward four, and the second by Hugh Kennedy, president of ward five.

In opening the ball H. A. Munn, president of ward four, made some pointed references to the tactics of the opposition in regard to the great questions of the day. In speaking of the present Liberal administration he said it was worth while organizing to maintain the men in power who had done so much for Canada in the past. It did not matter a great deal whether an election was near or far off. It was always well to be ready. When the election did come he thought that the issues would be pretty clearly defined. They would centre round the great question of free trade relations with the United States. In connection with that question he reminded them that what the Laurier administration had accomplished in that respect was exactly what previous Conservative administrations had failed in. Now, however, that the Liberals had succeeded the very thing that was the cause of the better trade relations arrayed themselves behind the throne and raised the cry of disloyalty against the Liberals for attempting to do that which they themselves ignominiously failed to accomplish.

The cry of disloyalty brought nothing exactly new to the political mill. They had heard it on every occasion that the Liberal party attempted to bring forward some great reforming measure. It was worn out with age, but it was always trotted out again, and the eternal wonder was that it ever succeeded in deceiving anybody as to its true worth. It never occurred to the influential people who raised the cry of disloyalty at the proposal, to have free trade with the United States that they themselves were the very people who carried on a very large trade in automobiles with that country.

If it was not treason to trade across the line when there was a duty in force surely it was not treason to do so when the duty was removed. He did not know that the honours of England were wrapped up in the Canadian tariff against the United States. At the present time they imported millions of dollars worth of coal and raw cotton from the United States. The coal was absolutely essential to the development of the country and the raw cotton gave employment to thousands of people in this country in its manufacture. Would not these things be facilitated by free trade? (Cheers.) And then again, one of the great Montreal papers which led (Concluded on page 12.)

JOE MARTIN HAS ANOTHER GRIEVANCE.

Says Tory Lord Lieutenant Has Rejected Nominees for Magistracy

(Special to the Times.)
London, April 12.—Joseph Martin has joined in the protest against the wholesale appointment of Tories to the magistracy. He said that since he had been elected to parliament he was unable to get his nominees appointed.

"The Duke of Fife, the Tory Lord Lieutenant to whom I was forced to apply," he said, "believes the bench of London should be exclusively Tory."

ANOTHER FLIGHT ACROSS CHANNEL.

London, April 12.—Pierre Prier, the aviator, started in a monoplane from Hendon today in an attempt to make a flight to Paris without a stop. The aviator successfully crossed the English channel between Dover and Calais and continued in his flight toward the French capital.

Isay Les Molinoux, France, April 12.—Aviator Prier arrived here at 5.45 this afternoon from London, having made the trip of about 230 miles in a monoplane without a stop.

NEWSPAPER DEAL.

W. W. Astor Buys the Sunday Observer From Lord Northcliffe.

(Special to the Times.)
London, April 12.—Commenting this week on the purchase of the famous Sunday paper, the Observer, by William Waldorf Astor from Lord Northcliffe, H. Labouchere's paper, Truth, says:

"When the Canadian reciprocity treaty was promulgated Lord Northcliffe and his friends concluded the game was up for their policy of colonial preference. This conclusion was signified in the columns of the Daily Mail, but J. L. Jarvine, editor of the Observer, who is a whole-hogger, was indisposed to toe the line, the upshot being that the paper was sold. 'Who said American gold,' exclaims Truth. 'Northcliffe seems to have been wise in his generation. It was not good business for a newspaper to dog a dead horse. The lesson of the last three elections has shown the country resolutely against tariff reform. When Mr. Chamberlain started his mission for colonial preference the first article in the creed was food taxes, which he frankly confessed necessary for imperial salvation.'"

PROPOSED ANGLO-AMERICAN TREATY.

NEGOTIATIONS IN PROGRESS AT WASHINGTON

Convention Will Probably Be Submitted to Senate at Present Session

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador, Secretary of State Knox and Chancellor Anderson, counsel of the state department, yesterday held another long conference in regard to the proposed treaty between the United States and Great Britain. Progress is being made in the negotiations of the convention, it is declared, and the administration is still confident that the document will be completed in ample time for submission to the present session of the senate for ratification. No obstacles, it is said, have been encountered or are in sight that will impede the successful consummation of the treaty. The Anglo-Japanese alliance, it is reiterated here, offers no stumbling block to the treaty.

HON. CLIFFORD SIFTON GOING TO ENGLAND.

Hopes to Succeed Lord Strathcona as High Commissioner in London

(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, April 12.—Hon. Clifford Sifton will leave for England shortly with his family, and will be gone a good part of the summer. It is stated here on good authority that his visit is preliminary to his taking up his permanent residence in England. He has sold his house here, and rumor says his object now in view is to succeed Lord Strathcona as high commissioner, meanwhile entering British politics.

Messrs. Cowan and Goodwin, instead of going home for Easter, will go to New Brunswick, where they will next week address several public meetings in opposition to reciprocity.

PRINCE RUPERT RIOTS.

Two Men Committed for Trial Charged With Attempted Murder.

Prince Rupert, April 12.—As a result of a preliminary hearing yesterday two of the first prisoners concerned in last week's labor riots have been committed for trial and will go to Vancouver. These are two Montenegrins, Vugovich and Vuckovich. Both are charged with attempted murder by shooting at two police officers. The other cases are to be prosecuted as quickly as possible. One more case of attempted murder is to come up. Most of the other cases are for intimidation.

CHARGE AGAINST RAILWAYS.

Pittsburg, April 12.—Indictments were returned yesterday against the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. The charges involve the alleged failure by an interstate carrier to observe the tariffs filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and with unlawfully granting concessions on demurrage charges. Upon conviction the maximum fines would aggregate $400,000 against each of the corporations.

MOROCCAN SITUATION.

Paris, April 12.—M. Krupp, minister of foreign affairs, announces that the latest official advice from Morocco indicate that the situation there had greatly improved. He believed a recurrence of the troubles is now unlikely, as the approaching harvest season will take the tribes back to the villages.

THOUSANDS OF TROOPS ON DUTY.

"CHAMPAGNE RIOTS" RENEWED IN FRANCE

Much Property Has Been Destroyed by Organized Rioters

Damery, Department of Marne, France, April 12.—The "Champagne riots" which began in this department yesterday were continued to-day by the excited population. Wine cellars are being destroyed and the disorder is spreading in spite of the presence of troops called out to preserve order. The trouble in this department began yesterday on the receipt of news from Paris that the senate had passed a resolution in favor of suppression of all territorial delimitations of the work in which wine can legally be designated as champagne. Seven thousand wine growers left here to-day, marching on Epernay, four miles distant, to destroy the wine cellars there. The rioters were admirably organized and were aroused to a pitch of fervor. During the progress of the advance they sang the revolutionary hymns and waved red standards.

Co-operating with another band which had reached Ayr from a different direction, the rioters proceeded to Veuilly, where they destroyed the huge wine presses. Troops then descended upon the rioters. The attorney-general went to Veuilly by automobile to-day with the object of investigating the situation, but was unable to move through the streets, owing to their being piled high with broken champagne bottles. Damery to-day is a picture of desolation. The streets are literally running with champagne mixed with mud. Within a stone's throw of the Red banner, floating over the city hall, stands the ruins of six houses of wine merchants, demolished by the mob last night.

Troops in Readiness.
Epernay, France, April 12.—The commanding officer of this district has concentrated several thousand troops at this town, which is an entrepot for the champagne wines, and at other threatened points in this vicinity, to prevent the further destruction of property. The troops have been given orders to use such force as is necessary.

Orders for Commanders.
Paris, April 12.—The French government is disturbed over the riots in the champagne district of Marne, resulting from the adoption of a resolution by the senate of suppression of all territorial delimitations. Instructions have been sent to the commanders of troops in the disturbed region to preserve order and save property, but not to prevent orderly processions.

ACCIDENT AT AUCTION SALE.

Newark, N. J., April 12.—Twenty persons, a majority of them women, are under the care of surgeons at Glencliff, N. J., as the result of injuries received in the collapse of a platform at an auction sale there late yesterday. The injured were bidders and had crowded upon the auctioneer's platform. Spirited bidding was in progress when the platform gave way, precipitating the crowd to the ground.

WOMAN IN AEROPLANE.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Another Washington society woman, mail her first flight in an aeroplane yesterday when Miss Leonora Risero, daughter of the Cuban minister, went aloft with Anthony Jannus, the aviator, in a Rex Smith biplane. They rose to about 150 feet and circled Potomac park several times.

DR. ROBERTSON ON IMMIGRATION.

Doubts Wisdom of Instantly Granting Settlers Rights of Citizenship

(Special to the Times.)
Liverpool, April 12.—Dr. Robertson, the well known educationist and agriculturist, who adds to his various activities on behalf of the settler the chairmanship of the Aberdeen Association for the distribution of good literature to settlers in the newer and more remote parts of Canada, has permitted himself to be interviewed on the current of immigration Canada-wards, in the course of which he said:

"A great stream of foreign blood is flowing into Canadian citizenship. While I do not see any risk from a large stream of foreign workers pouring into our fields and factories, are we not a little shortsighted in thinking that because a man moves his body from one place to another he should instantly come into the full rights of citizenship without our being sure he is of worthy blood?" Dr. Robertson further said that there was general discontent in Canada with the present product of the public schools.

RECIPROCITY BILL IN U. S. HOUSE.

CHAIRMAN UNDERWOOD INTRODUCES MEASURE

Free List Bill Will Be Next Tariff Legislation to Receive Attention

Washington, April 12.—With the legislative plan of procedure arranged by the Democratic majority in last night's caucus, the House of Representatives to-day was prepared to witness the introduction of the Canadian reciprocity bill, the substitute for the McCall bill of the sixty-first congress. The caucus determined to push reciprocity and free list bill, but it was left to the ways and means committee to decide on the priority of the two measures. This committee by a considerable majority had decided on reciprocity as the first measure in tariff legislation. The free list bill will be followed after a caucus to be held two weeks hence of revision of the wool and cotton schedule.

Bill Introduced.
Washington, April 12.—(Later.)—Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee introduced the reciprocity bill. The bill is practically the same as introduced in the last session of congress.

"We expect to call up the reciprocity bill Friday," said Chairman Underwood, "and will seek to pass it as soon as possible."

The free list bill which will put on the free list about 100 articles now dutiable under the general tariff, is designed to placate farmers for agricultural losses which they will sustain under the Canadian agreement, but they contain also some foodstuffs and boots and shoes. The list is as follows: Ploughs, harrows, headers, rakes, reapers, agricultural drills and planters, mowers, horse rakes, cultivators, threshing machines, cotton gins, farm wagons, farm carts and all other agricultural implements, including repair parts; Bagging for cotton gunny cloth and fabrics suitable for baling cotton, burlaps and bags for packing agricultural products; hoops or bands of iron or steel for baling cotton, wire for baling hay, straw and other agricultural products; leather buff, split, rough or sole leather, bolting leather, boots and shoes, harness, saddles and saddlery and leather for manufactured articles; barbed fence wires or building materials; wire mesh, wire or manufactured wire fencing; meats of all kinds, fish, salted, pickled, dried, smoked, dressed or undressed, prepared or preserved in any way; Bacon, hams, shoulders, lard, lard compounds, and lard substitutes; sausage, buckwheat flour, corn meal, wheat and rye flour, bran, middlings and other offals of grain, oatmeal and rolled oats and all prepared cereal foods, biscuits, bread wafers and similar articles sweetened; timber, hewn, sided or squared, round timber used for spars or building wharves, shingles, laths, fencing posts, sawed boards, planks, deals and rough lumber or dressed, except ebony, mahogany, rosewood and all other woods; sewing machines and salt complete the free list.

May Reach Senate Next Week.
Uncertainty exists as to what course will be pursued in the senate with reference to the Canadian agreement bill when it reaches that body, possibly next week.

Senator Penrose, who is the new chairman of the committee on finance, is friendly to the bill and will urge favorable action. The friends of the bill also make a decided gain in the absence of Senator Hale.

Senator Bailey, who moves up to the place of senior minority member of the committee, is opposed to the bill, and all indications point to his being a friendly point of view. With the bill once before the senate a fairly long contest is expected. It is believed that in the end it will pass.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

Baby, Injured When Fire Destroys Parents' Home, Succumbs.

(Special to the Times.)
Lethbridge, April 12.—Word has been received from a settler living near the Brooks family, east of Couta, whose three children perished in a fire on Saturday, saying the baby died before a doctor arrived on the scene. There is practically no hope for the mother. There were five children in the house at the time of the explosion and fire and only one, a boy, escaped.

ALASKA COAL LAND CASE.

Indictment Against Earl B. Slegley Is Quashed.
Seattle, Wash., April 12.—Earl B. Slegley, indicted by the federal grand jury in Spokane for criminal conspiracy to defraud the government of coal lands in Alaska, was purged of the charge against him in the federal court yesterday, when Judge Stanford entered a motion, at the instance of Special Prosecutor Townsend, quashing the indictment against Slegley. Lack of evidence is responsible for quashing the charges.

RIOTING IN FRENCH WINE DISTRICTS

Decision of Senate Causes Trouble—Cellars Wrecked by Rioters

Paris, April 12.—The senate yesterday, after a lengthy discussion of the serious condition that has arisen over the champagne question, adopted a resolution in favor of suppressing all territorial delimitation. It is likely to provoke dissensions between sections of the country. A law was recently enacted, excluding the department of Aube from the region of the wine of which legally can be designated champagne. This has resulted in demonstrations of protest in that department.

Rioters on March.

Rheims, France, April 12.—The course adopted by the senate relative to the delimitation of the champagne area caused excitement throughout the department of Marne. It is considered as a blow to the interests of Marne and a concession to the rival and neighboring department of Aube.

A column of 2,000 marchers from the villages in the Marne valley descended on Epernay, which is the entrepot for champagne wines. These are kept in vaults in the rocks on which the town is built. They paraded through several small towns, doing considerable damage to the cellars of unpopular firms. The authorities hastily dispatched the Sixteenth Dragoons and a force of gendarmes after the rioters.

Fight With Soldiers.

Epernay, Department of Marne, April 12.—On hearing the decision of the senate, certain leaders summoned the wine growers to Epernay, and the call was quickly responded to. A big column marched through the valley and arrived at Day before the authorities were aware that the workers had started. They wrecked cellars and smashed 250,000 bottles of champagne, throwing up barricades with casks and hoisting the red flag.

The column then swooped down on Damary, where three establishments were sacked, gallons of wine being poured into the streets. The next stopping place was Aye, where the rioters were beginning the work of destruction when a squadron of the Thirty-first Dragoons, which had been in pursuit, caught up with them, driving them out of the town. Several of the rioters were injured, but the others took up the march to Epernay. At Epernay the populace was seething. All the troops were on foot and the approaches to the town were strongly guarded.

HEAVY DRINKER CURED.

Samaria Cured Him and He Helps Others.

A man who has been released from the awful cravings of drink, and whose first thought is to help others, shows the spirit of true brotherhood and philanthropy. Read his letter:

"The Samaria Remedy Co., Toronto, Ont.
"Will you please send me book on drink, also circulars relating to your valued remedy for the drink habit. I wish to hand these to a friend who is going to run through drink. You will remember that I have taken your remedy, and I find it all you claim it to be. I never think of taking or using strong drink in any way, as all desire for it has left me. I cannot speak too highly of your wonderful remedy. You may use my name in any way you wish in public.

"H. Lilywhite, Bridgen, Ontario."
Samaria Prescription is tasteless and odorless, and dissolves instantly in tea or coffee, or can be mixed with food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge. It removes the craving for drink, builds up the system and restores the nerves. Drink becomes distasteful and even nauseous.

Drink is a disease, not a crime. One drink of whiskey always invites another. The inflamed nerves and stomach create a craving that must either be satisfied by more whiskey or removed by scientific treatment like Samaria Prescription. Samaria Prescription has been in regular and successful use by Physicians and Hospitals for over ten years.

If you know of any family needing Samaria Prescription, tell them about it. If you have a husband, father or friend that is drifting into drink, help him save himself. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet, giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it, and mentioning this paper. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Write to-day.

OUR LETTER BOX

MR. GOSNELL REPLIES.

To the Editor:—With further reference to your editorial articles of Saturday, to which absence in Seattle prevented me from replying sooner, did I not know that I was so prominently placed in the arena only as a whipping post for Premier McBride, I might feel flattered by the suggestion that my services brought one million dollars to the public treasury and were instrumental in winning three elections in the province. If, as alleged, these have been based upon falsehood, there must, of course, be a very ugly fit in the obtaining of success, and I am bound to defend my new found laurels by an investigation of the facts bearing upon its existence.

First, let me explain that I have no intention of becoming involved in an infinite mass of figures and receipts and expenditures, under a variety of headings, covering a period of over 35 years. Ninety-nine out of one hundred readers would tire of the details even if they took the trouble to follow them at any length. I got the details of the earlier years, before the publication of the auditor-general's report, partly from the public accounts at Ottawa ten years ago, and I have, therefore, no means at my disposal of verifying very many of them, and, as stated in a previous letter, I have never seen the return of the auditor-general to whom you refer. I have a very distinct recollection of day in question, but the details of receipts and expenditures to complete the tables of figures so much in dispute, the greater part of which was prepared in 1901 before Mr. McBride was thought of as Premier, before there was party line gerrymandering, and when three members of the cabinet supported the Liberal administration at Ottawa. The same was more or less true of the Prior administration when the same set of figures was again submitted in 1903.

Let me say, too, that by a different process of estimation a similar conclusion was, in the session of 1905, arrived at and presented to the legislature by Mr. R. P. Rithet, one of the members of the cabinet of Victoria, whom I am sure you will accuse of acting as a stool-pigeon for the government of the day or of endeavoring to "gold brick" the public. In the general election campaign of 1906, when the honest was on the other foot, Mr. Templeman and Dr. Milne, the two Liberal candidates, said in their election address published in the Times: "We are opposed to the 'bleeding process' whereby the province of British Columbia has been forced for years to contribute to the Dominion treasury in customs, excise, finance and other duties, and to Eastern monopolists, over two millions a year in excess of the sum returned to us for all purposes."

If I were unkind enough to follow your example, I might add that you now impute to Mr. McBride the motives for a course that Mr. Templeman and the Times were prepared to pursue in case the Liberals had not been successful.

Also, it should be absolutely understood that the table of figures in question, although, as I have previously stated, it is highly illustrative and illuminative, is not the basis upon which special recognition for the province was secured by Premier McBride. It was the exceptional and unusual physical conditions which have rendered the cost of local administration in British Columbia so disproportionately high in comparison with other provinces. The Hon. Walter Scott, to whom you refer, was present at the Ottawa conference and knows what I say to be true. The exception to be taken, and which was taken, to the decision arrived at on that occasion is that, logically, the physical conditions being permanent, the allowance therefore should also be permanent, and not for ten years only. Either the conference was wrong in its premises or absurd in its conclusions.

Coming back to the question of the statistical tables I shall not even discuss the contemptible allegation that they were "deliberately planned" to deceive, and, as to possible clerical errors of unintentional omissions, they are subject to the main consideration of substantial accuracy. In this connection I wish to state what is the crux of the whole matter. In 1903, the second delegation to Ottawa submitted a proposal to the effect that the entire subject should be made the basis of investigation by an independent commission of competent men, one member to be appointed by the local government, one by the federal government and one by the imperial government. The local government did not ask the federal government to accept the data it submitted as correct. The memoranda were submitted in support of the demand for such an inquiry. As a matter of fact, so important a question had no right to be determined by ex parte statements of the local administration, of the Dominion auditor-general or of myself. This phase of the subject was called to the attention of the federal authorities and emphasized over and over again in the representations made to Ottawa, all of which are in public print. The Dominion government emphatically refused. Now, therefore, after all these years, if it be contended—and it is strange that the contention should be confined to a British Columbia newspaper—that the province was wrongfully given a special allowance on the strength of such data, the responsibility must rest with those who refused the investigation, not upon those who asked for it.

In conclusion, I am represented as being impaled on one of two horns of a dilemma, but do not be offended at the observation that if you understood better the subject you are endeavoring to discuss you would realize that you and not myself are in that awkward predicament.

First, you say: "Mr. Gosnell argues that the fact that British Columbia contributes in customs revenue three times the amount per capita of any of the other provinces (I did not say 'any of the other provinces' but the 'whole of Canada') of the Dominion to the federal treasury makes good the claim of better terms (I didn't say that either). But how does he propose proving that all the goods upon which customs duties are paid at our ports are consumed within the bounds of the province? According to Mr. Gosnell's logic the cost of the administration of the municipality of Montreal should be borne largely by the federal government as that port contributes to the Dominion treasury a very large proportion of the customs revenue. The case has only to be stated in order to prove its absurdity." For a British Columbia editor you are very badly informed on this particular matter. Up to the time of the opening of the Yukon territory, owing to our extreme western and isolated position there was nothing which came into the province entered for consumption that was not consumed in the province. After that certain goods, like liquors, cigars, tobacco, etc., which had paid duty in British Columbia, found a market in the Yukon, but, although the amount was really relatively small, it was far more than made up, many times over, by goods which were imported from Eastern Canada and which had originally paid duty at the other end. In more recent years a trade in tea, coffee, rice, etc., which pay no duty, and certain Oriental goods which do, has been developed by local commission firms in the Middle West, but even yet the goods of that class are trifling, as compared with the whole volume imported, and bear no comparison with the volume of Eastern goods brought from the Eastern provinces upon which our consumers pay the duty in the form of a price charged, plus the freight on the long haul. The tariff trans-Pacific consignments of silk, teas, etc., which are shipped overland go through in bond and are not entered locally at all. For proof here to Vancouver and interview the customs officials. But all this is dealt with fully in the printed returns in connection with the case for better terms, and the fact that you are not familiar with it proves conclusively that you have not read the reports you so glibly produce. I think I may claim that I am not at all events on the first horn of the dilemma. Now, let us see about the other horn, that of reciprocity.

True, I have no use for reciprocity in any form, but had the reciprocity proposed been a complete measure, there might have been some sting in your remarks. Even in that case, they would have been applicable to the future only and not to the past forty years, during all of which time the financial relation complained of operated disadvantageously to the province. But as the duty under the proposed arrangement remains practically the same on all manufactured articles upon which almost the whole of our duty has been paid, and as the only items on the proposed free list affecting the situation are agricultural products which are to come into competition with our own in our own market and in our only other market, the Middle West, I leave it to your own fertile imagination to suggest to what extent our present burdens are to be relieved, or the equity of an arrangement which takes away protection from the industry of the farmer and at the same time taxes the implements of his industry. I think I may also fairly claim that I am not on either horn of a dilemma and that you are on both horns at once.

R. E. GOSNELL.

IRROQUOIS DISASTER.

To the Editor:—I am only an indifferent sailor and have no desire to enter particularly into details of the wreck of the

Irroquois, or anticipate the finding of the hulk. I will confine my remarks to the statements volunteered by the captain of that vessel, as I am well aware that "sound and fury" in anonymous letters, under your supervision, have small chance of appearing in the Times. It will be made clear at the inquest, I hope, why the sailor who was considered competent to assume command of the sinking vessel in the absence of the captain could not have taken charge of the boat that succeeded in reaching shore "for assistance."

The veriest tyro knows it is the duty of all captains of ships to remain in supreme command until every woman, child and man has escaped or has been drowned, and that some captains consider it their duty to stand alone on their ship, to sink with her.

This recalls to memory the wreck of the Valencia and the press-clash, when the over-cautious sniggered at reckless heroes who made desperate attempts to rescue the victims, and the heroes in return more than "sniggered" at the over-cautious.

There are sundry points in the captain's statement which demand careful sifting, when it is to be hoped that the courage will be emphasized, as both are

IDITAROD CITY SWEEP BY FIRE

Almost Whole of Business
Section in Ruins — Loss
Estimated at $100,000

Seattle, Wash., April 12.—A cable to the Times from Katalag, Alaska, says practically all of the business section of Iditarod city was laid in ruins by a fire that threatened the entire camp for several hours last Tuesday.

The places of business of more than twenty concerns were destroyed, and it is estimated the loss is nearly $100,000.

Fortunately the fire spread slowly and nearly every storekeeper in the fire zone was able to move his stock to a place of safety.

The fire broke out in the Pioneer hotel, owned by Mrs. Donaldson, shortly after noon. It was discovered almost immediately and a general alarm was sounded.

The town is in a primitive state as to water supply, and for fire fighting equipment it was necessary to rely entirely upon the bucket brigade and a remote water hole. A severe snowstorm was raging at the time, and this further handicapped the volunteers.

The fire spread up Front street until the flames enveloped the whole line of business places, from Richard to Wil- low. After the hopelessness of saving the buildings in imminent danger was seen, the fighters turned their efforts to saving the property in the neighboring blocks. They were favored by a strong wind, and by tearing down light intervening structures succeeded in holding the fire to one block. Brad- street's financial agency here has placed estimates on the losses of con- sideration as follows:

Barrett & Lewin, provision store, building only, $5,000.

J. I. Johnson, cigar store and pool rooms, $4,000.

Isaac Goldstein, general merchandise, building, $3,000.

Isaac Brothers & Company, gent's furnishings, building only, $3,000.

Thomas McKinnon, building, $3,000.

Charles Worden's saloon, building and furnishings, $10,000.

Merchants' cafe, building and fit- tings, $12,000.

Pioneer hotel, building and furnis- ings, $10,000.

Rams Peterson saloon, furnishings, $2,000.

The losses of others will make the total loss by the fire reach nearly $100,000.

OPPOSE RECIPROCITY.

Plum Coulee, April 11.—W. H. Sharp, M. P. for Lisgar, addressed a meeting of his constituents here last evening on the reciprocity pact which he strongly condemned, claiming that it would not add a cent to the price of farm products and would open the door for American trusts to prey on Canadian resources. He ended by stating he would not vote for the pact, but if the Conservatives in Lisgar voted he would not vote against it.

After the meeting a private meeting of Mr. Sharp and his supporters was held to enable him to hear their views on the matter, and on a vote being taken forty voted against reciprocity, three not voting.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

Asceticism is a sister of luxury. Hu- manity progresses like a tight-rope walker who carries a balancing stick in his hand and throws his weight to one side when he goes to fall on the other. The fourth century, for instance, pro- duced in Rome the most un- bridled and de- humanized splen- dor and self-in- dulgence that history has re- corded; and it was precisely at this time the race leaned for- ward and the other way and men be- gan by hundreds to abjure the world, and to starve and mangle themselves as never before. While one end of society was greedy for new wines and stranger lusts, the other extreme were hungry only for self-torture and martyrdom.

CYCLONE WRECKS FARMER'S HOME

Occupants Whirled Through Air — One Person Killed and Several Injured

Frederick, Okla., April 12.—In a cyclone which swept across the coun- try two miles southeast of this city Monday the home of B. W. Hensley, a farmer, was demolished and its oc- cupants scattered about the adjoining fields. All the members of the fam- ily were in bed when the roar of the wind came and the house was torn to pieces. Some were whirled up bodily in their beds and carried through the air.

James F. Smith of this city, who was visiting at the Hensley home, was struck by a flying timber and killed, and Mr. Hensley, his wife and two young sons were seriously injured. The storm blew up in a few minutes and lasted not more than five minutes.

CANADA THE PIVOTAL STATE.

London, April 12.—Hon. W. E. Guinness, Unionist, will propose a mo- tion in the House of Commons next week to the effect that the foreign sit- uation be discussed at the Imperial conference. Commenting on this, the Westminster Gazette, Liberal, says the government has every reason to take the overseas dominions into partner- ship regarding international affairs, but must proceed cautiously. Unques- tionably there was a feeling in certain of the dominions that a partnership may mean commitment to certain enter- prises which they do not control, and only remotely concern their popu- lations.

The Sheffield Telegraph says rec- iprocity with the United States will make Canada seek release from her present fiscal obligations. Her Imperial treaty would dislocate the entire com- mercial machinery of the Empire by necessitating the denunciation of all those from which Canada desired to be free. If the Motherland does not wish to pursue her present attitude of lofty contempt for commercial interest she must adopt an Empire policy and re- sume her old power of direct negotia- tions.

Chinamen Bring Action Against Editor of Liverpool Magazine.

Liverpool, April 12.—The Chinamen of Liverpool, whose increasing numbers and alleged evil practices have been the subject of adverse comment recent- ly, show no disposition to take the matter calmly. A libel suit brought by the men "In Chinatown" against the editor of the Liverpool Magazine was begun yesterday. The defendant is charged with imputing immoral prac- tices to Chinamen and with defaming generally on the subjects of Chinese emigration, with intent to excite hatred against them. The case was adjourned, when the court here issued a tempo- rary injunction restraining the editor from a repetition of his allegations.

MINERS' EXECUTIVE.

Fernie, B. C., April 12.—The execu- tive of district 18 has been called to meet at Frank on Thursday morning.

Yesterday was pay day with the Crow's Nest Pass Company, the earn- ings for March being handed out to the men at both camps. Nearly $200,000 was paid to the employees here and at Michel. Every part of the district re- ports perfect quiet, and the miners here are more than usually careful of the cash they are getting.

Notice to Advertisers

Owing to the rapidly increasing circulation of the Times and the growing demands for space, it has become absolutely necessary to place a limit upon the time at which changes for advertisements will be accepted and guaranteed publication. Copy for changes must be handed in to the business office not later than 5 p. m. the previous day.

Arrangements for the insertion of new advertisements must be made before 10 a. m. day of publication. Classified advertisements before 2 p. m.

The above rules are made for the benefit of readers of the Times, who insist upon the paper being delivered as early in the evening as possible.

MARINE INVESTIGATIONS.

A valued correspondent calls the attention of the Times to an article in the morning paper anent an investigation of the Iroquois disaster which suggests the appointment of a competent committee "preferably naval officers." The reason for this preference appears to be that naval officers are men who will do their duty unhesitatingly and who have nothing to gain by shielding those responsible for the disaster.

It is scarcely likely that the Marine Department would be sensibly moved by the preference expressed by the Colonist as to the constitution of such a commission, even if there were any likelihood of its selecting a commission that had something "to gain by shielding the responsible." The Canada Shipping Act, however, makes ample provision for the personnel of such commissions, and the most liberal interpretation that could be put upon its designation of those qualified to act would exclude the possibility of anyone receiving the commission who would be likely to gain by shielding those ultimately discovered to be responsible for the wreck.

Were there no other persons competent to conduct such an impartial investigation the Times would hesitate to urge the appointment of naval officers on account of the delay which would take place before the red tape necessary to such a commission could be complied with. At any rate whatever is done should be done with promptness in order to conserve the evidence of those most competent to be witnesses and give testimony really important to such a commission. Such persons often have business reasons for removal from the scene of disaster and are sometimes difficult to locate. We understand the Department of Marine already has the matter under advisement.

PAVEMENT TENDERS.

The City Council acted wisely, we believe, in its determination to ask for alternative bids in the description of the extensive areas of paving that are to be laid on the streets this summer.

In saying this the Times is in no way reflecting upon the specifications prepared by the city engineer and upon which one set of tenders, at least, must be submitted. The question of street paving material—apart from the old style solid stone block pavements—is one which most modern cities have had to wrestle with, and the results have not been satisfactory in some cases. Given a solid concrete base, which we are glad to see the council is determined to insist upon, the wearing surface may still be said to be a matter of experimentation. It is gratifying to see that paving companies are grappling with that feature of paving endurance, and in the submitting of tenders there can be no harm in allowing the widest latitude for separate specifications. No one will suppose that specifications which, under the test of time, produced a paving material which was serviceable cannot be improved upon. Companies engaged in the paving business usually have a wide range of experience and acquire a knowledge of differing conditions which should make them eminently capable of adapting their materials to the peculiarities of each locality. Their rivalry to excel in the quality of their productions must also exercise a stimulant effect upon their experiments and the results of such investigations, when placed before the council, will prove of inestimable value.

The council can lose nothing and may gain much in having tenders upon specifications other than those prepared by the city engineer. If such tenders are backed by substantial guarantees and are secured by bonds, or otherwise, against loss through defects, the city of Victoria may be one of the first to discover a suitable wearing surface for the climate of the West and may, incidentally, confer a favor on other rising cities which would profit from such experience.

MR. GOSNELL'S LETTERS.

The Times yesterday published a lettergram sent from Seattle by Mr. R. E. Gosnell, in which that gentleman pays his courteous respects to this paper in criticism of an editorial appearing in our issue of Saturday last. To-day we publish another letter from the same author, evidently written with more deliberation, but in further attempt at refutation of the argument of the Times. We think that even Mr. Gosnell will agree that we have given him a liberal amount of our space for the purpose of placing himself right before his readers. The pith of Mr. Gosnell's grievance and smarting sense of imagined injustice lies in the fact that we proved his figures, used in the late Better Terms issue, to be erroneous.

In the letter which we print to-day Mr. Gosnell admits that the figures were criticized, and refuted, were compiled "partly from the public accounts and partly from various departments at Ottawa ten years ago." The inference would seem to be that he admits the inadequacy of his authorities, and in view of the incomplete sources of his information, the Times is willing to acquit him from the logical sentence of responsibility for his mistakes. We believe he will agree with us in expressing the sentiment that it is a pity the "days and nights and many weeks of self-imposed labor to complete the tables of figures so much in dispute" should not have been productive of more accurate results. In view of Mr. Gosnell's declaration of disinterestedness it looks very much like another case of loves labor lost. The figures, when brought into comparison with the authoritative reports of the Auditor-General, would simply not hold water and there was no recourse but for the Times to point out the discrepancy.

We think Mr. Gosnell will agree, on mature reflection, that it was unnecessary to manifest such warmth in resenting the inference that his figures had been prepared with a special purpose. The fact that they were so ostentatiously used for a special purpose would excuse so natural an inference, but the generosity, with which Mr. Gosnell assumes the full responsibility, immediately places the "picturesque locks" of Mr. McBride out of reach of danger. This, however, leaves it still true that Mr. Gosnell, "if reduced to the necessities condition would sooner lie for Mr. McBride than any other man" he knows of. So Mr. McBride appears to be in pretty safe hands.

Mr. Gosnell's arguments in to-day's paper, in explanation of his reasons for opposing reciprocity will be read for what they are worth. He has a right to his opinion, even though it be developed from incorrect premises and is illogical in effect. Mr. Bonar Law, who is the fiscal expert of the tariff reform party in England, has been telling the people of England that reciprocity will increase the price of wheat in Canada. He also has a right to his opinion, and it is respectfully submitted for the consideration of the advocates of a highly protective tariff who are telling the Canadian farmers that reciprocity will be of no use to them.

Mr. W. W. Foster, until recently manager of the Globe Lumber Company at Revelstoke, has been made Deputy Commissioner of Lands and Works. Mr. Foster is in every way a capable official, painstaking in his work and a faithful coadjutor in Conservative councils in the different parts of the province where he has lived. He held the office of police magistrate in Revelstoke for several years.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is reported from Paris as having said that "one is inclined to question whether the suppression of war is good for the world." In justification of this hesitating opinion Sir Thomas is said to believe that "a war now and then acts as a sort of clearance of the surplus population." It might be pointed out that there are other ways of working the clearing house for surplus population. Plagues might be substituted if they were not so messy, and famine is not a bad idea once in a while, if measured by Sir Thomas's logic. Fie! Sir Thomas. Why not wreck a few C. P. R. trains?

The Colonist lacks perspicacity. There is no objection to the action of the government in raising the price of the public land. The objection is to the hole and corner, surprise, retroactive, reactionary, interested, unstatesmanlike, order-in-council method of doing it. The Times has not yet quite boxed the compass in the use of the adjectives appropriate to the occasion. As for the "disclosures" the Times promises they will all be forthcoming in good time, and the Colonist will discover that it is not because the "present government has made it" that objection is taken.

A "very candid critic," discussing the disorganization of the Conservative ranks in Canada at the present time, says "the trouble with the party, since the death of Sir John A. Macdonald, is that it has been without unity of action. And it has lacked unity of action because it has been without unity of principles or ideals." This critic also points out that the alliance between the Tories of Upper Canada and the moderate Liberals of Quebec was prolonged under Sir John's single authority by virtue of his constructive enterprise and that "with the death of Sir John the moral agreement was broken." The wholesome groups which he claims exist in the Conservative party have been neutralized by the wealthy and sectarian groups which are numerous and strong. Adverting to the rumor that Clifford Sifton is to be asked to cast his lot with the Conservatives, the critic admits the probability of such a consummation and predicts a readjustment in the field of national politics. Certainly the advent of Mr. Sifton in the Conservative camp would "readjust" Mr. Bourassa and Mr. Foster. The critic advises the Conservatives of Quebec to have none of it, so we cannot see much hope ahead for the unification of the friends in the opposition.

It is interesting to note that, during the summer holidays, the business of the executive departments in the government buildings will be held down, despite the absence of the chief ministers. The satisfaction of having the Honorable Dr. Young, acting premier, Ellison, Ross and McPhillips in charge of the affairs of state for a couple of months will not be diminished by the fact the other ministers are having a good time abroad. It would not be nice to intimate that the Attorney-General is so necessary to the successful running of the affairs of Vancouver that something might happen there while he is absent. We are sure the people of Vancouver have no such fears. The Premier's presence is required at the coronation—fittingly so—and besides there is the great conference of colonial premiers to be held almost immediately after. We do not know what the Premier is going to "carry to the foot of the throne" this time, but we can rest easily in the assurance that we shall hear when he comes back. The Minister of Public Works will take his usual summer jaunt over the roads of the province and come back refreshed both in body and mind. The Minister of Finance will see that his private business suffers no loss while he is sitting on the lid of the treasury chest and the intricate affairs of provincial administration will still go merrily humming along their prosperous way. The province will have peace and those who are "hot" over land leases and other things will have time to cool their heels before the convulsive assemblies for the winter's work.

PAPER MILL TO BE BUILT.

Toronto, April 12.—A paper mill costing a million dollars, and having a capacity of 100 tons a day, will be erected by the Spanish River Pulp Paper Company, at Espanola, Ont., where the company already has a 6,000-acre-mile concession, and owns a model village in which 200 families live.

ST. VITUS DANCE

A Striking Example of Its Cure by the Tonic Treatment

St. Vitus dance is the commonest form of nervous trouble which afflicts children, because of the great demands made on the body by growth and development, and there is the added strain caused by study. It is when these demands become so great that they impoverish the blood, and the nerves fail to receive their full supply of nourishment, that the nervous debility which leads to St. Vitus dance.

The remarkable success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing St. Vitus dance should lead parents to give their children this great blood-building medicine at the first signs of the approach of the disease. Pale, listless, nervous, inattention, restlessness and irritability are all symptoms which early show that the blood and nerves are failing to meet the demands made upon them. Mrs. A. Winters, Virden, Man., says: "When my little girl was six years old she was attacked with St. Vitus dance, which was followed by St. Vitus dance. Her limbs would jerk and twitch. Her speech became affected, and at last she became so bad that she could scarcely walk, and we hardly dared trust her alone. She was under the care of a doctor, but in spite of this was steadily growing worse, and we feared that we would lose her. As Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured her older sister of an anemia I decided to try them again. After the use of a few boxes, to our great joy, we found they were helping her and in the course of a few weeks more her power of speech fully returned, and she could walk and go about as well as any child, and she has been well and healthy since. When illness comes to any one of our family now, we never call in a doctor, but simply use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they never disappoint us."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Luke Spittire, a native of Shropshire, told the Blackburn magistrates that he was trained as a lawyer, but was now weaving. He confessed to having been imprisoned over a thousand times, being committed to jail throughout the kingdom. "After my imprisonment," he said, "I would be fruitless, whereas leniency would earn everlasting benediction. 'I am speaking fluently,' he said, 'so take my statements down carefully.' He was committed for fourteen days for drunkenness. He requested a longer sentence, and left the dock reciting poetry.

ANOTHER BUILDING DISPUTE IN CHICAGO

More Than 16,000 Men Are Involved in Trouble Regarding Jurisdiction

Chicago, Ill., April 12.—A new labor dispute, which will probably tie up the construction on every building in the city, broke out to-day. More than 10,000 building laborers, bricklayers and stonemasons are involved in a jurisdictional strike with 6,000 cement workers. The cement workers are ordered to have nothing to do with concrete work within the walls of any building, or with raising, moving or such work in any building. This order, sent to the architects, engineers and builders of the city, practically ousts the cement workers.

—That Oak Bay is growing very rapidly is shown by the statement prepared by J. S. Floyd, assessor to the municipality. The total assessment, land and improvements, for the year, is figured at $2,248,298, compared with $2,168,563 for 1910. The total assessed value of taxable property is $2,487,492, after deducting improvements and the value of lands exempt from taxation. The report also sets forth that the number of subdivisions or entries on the current year's roll at present is nearly double that of 1910.

The subject, while treated with seriousness, was constantly relieved by flashes of humor, and those attending certainly enjoyed themselves. To-night Prof. Alexander will lecture to men and on Saturday night, by request, will repeat the lecture of last night.

HONORED PIONEERS.

Bible Class Greeted Members on 80th and 90th Birthdays.

A very happy event took place on Monday evening at the residence of G. T. Boulding, Richmond, when the members of the Sunday morning class of the Metropolitan church, of which Mr. Boulding is leader, met to do honor to Isaac Walsh, a veteran member of the class and pioneer member of the church, whose 80th birthday was celebrated on that day.

A large number of Mr. Walsh's friends gathered, and Rev. T. E. Holling in a few words conveyed the congratulations of the class to Mr. Walsh, and also dwelt upon the sterling qualities of his character and his long career of usefulness in connection with the church.

The occasion was made still more interesting by the presence of Mrs. Wolfe, another valued member of the church, who was 90 years of age on Monday. Appropriate reference was also made to Mrs. Wolfe's long life and beautiful Christian character and influence.

Both Mrs. Wolfe and Mr. Walsh acknowledged in grateful terms the thoughtfulness and good wishes of the class.

The evening was spent in music and conversation, and refreshments were served at the close.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

On Saturday the Knights Templars of Columbia Precinctory, No. 34, Vancouver, were at home to visiting Knights from Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, Victoria and Bellingham, the headquarters being at the new Elysium hotel. The total party included about 125, the visiting Knights being accompanied by their better halves.

The Victoria visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Hearn, Stephen Jones, Mr. Thompson, S. Court, R. Wilson and N. Scott.

The gathering marked the first celebration of the kind on the Pacific coast. Next year it is probable that Seattle or Tacoma will be "at home." In the evening the Templars assembled in the Masonic temple, while the ladies were entertained by the Vancouver ladies either at the theatre or private parties. On Sunday afternoon a special service was held in St. James' church.

The sessions will extend over four or five days. A local committee will be formed at once to take in hand necessary arrangements for the convention. This year's president of the Pacific Northwest association is Miss May Francis Isom, the well-known librarian of the Portland (Ore.) Public Library. R. G. PROPOSE TO FORM TWO NEW LEAGUES

Enthusiastic Fans Will Organize the Lodge and Commercial Series

Now that the question whether Victoria is going to have a creditable professional ball team or not has been practically settled in the affirmative, the fans are going to devote their attention for awhile to the formation of amateur nines. There promises to be more baseball played in and around Victoria this year than the most ardent lover of the game ever dreamed of.

There are the senior, intermediate and junior leagues. The first with the Peden cup as the trophy to be competed for and the last two for glory, pure and simple. Besides these there are two other leagues in the making—the Lodge and the Commercial. The former will be composed of teams from the different lodges, such as the Foresters, Masons, Odd Fellows, Eagles, K. of C. and K. of P., and the latter of teams from such business places as Weller's, Spencer's, Stewart's, Challoner & Mitchell's, Penderay's, the Times and the Colonist. The United Commercial Travellers and the Corona boarding house, also, have nine which they would like to get into action as soon as possible.

The exact personnel of either of these leagues has, of course, not as yet been decided on, but there were so many teams anxious to play in the business men's series, which it was first proposed to form, that several of the wildly enthusiastic fans, prominent among whom is S. Bowers, thought the only thing to be done was to form two leagues. Now they are puzzling their heads in an effort to figure out what league the U. C. T. and the Coronas should be entered in.

The senior and intermediate series will open some time in the early part of May, and at the meeting of the baseball association to be held about the first of that month, the formation of the other leagues, in each of which at least four or five teams are sure to enter, will be discussed.

RACE TRACK NEWS.

Six owners, with strings of horses ranging from one to ten, arrived from Oakland yesterday. They were Chris Martin, with Dargin and Ada Meade, Dick Ferriest, with Light Night, Tony Faust and Jack Paine; Joe Kelly, with Sneezer; N. Beard, with 6 two-year-olds; T. Martin, Foot Loose; J. Diamond, with two two-year-olds. Besides there were ten others, among them Thistle Belle and Arrionette.

Racing enthusiasts will be sorry to hear that Evelyn K, a well known mare, owned by C. Louis, which was on its way to Vancouver and thence to Victoria from Calgary, broke its leg in the car and had to be killed. Jockey D. Riley, better known as "St. Bill" Riley, is in town and will ride for Chris Martin at the coming meet. He expects to make 110 pounds.

TEAMS ARE CHOSEN FOR OPENING GAME

Householder and Lynch Have Announced Their Line-Ups for Next Week

Player Manager Householder has announced the names of those who will play in the Islanders' first game in the Northwestern league at Tacoma next Tuesday. He is not quite sure who he will use in the box, but has seven pitchers slated as likely men for that position. It is noticeable that Lane and Thomas come first on the list, so it is highly probable that either one or perhaps both of them will do the twirling.

Kellar, the ice-cream man, is not on the line-up, as his leg is not yet in condition for strenuous work. Practically all the others who were picked as the favorites have found places, so that the fans may congratulate themselves on their judgment.

Manager Lynch has also given out his line-up and says that they will take the series, adding, as a comforter, that Victoria will no doubt give them a hard run. This all remains to be seen.

The teams in their batting orders are as follows, subject, of course, to changes:

Victoria Islanders	Tacoma Tigers
Millon, i.f.	Warren, r.f.
Davis, i.f.	Bassey, i.f.
Ward, ss.	Rockenfield, 2b.
Goodman, 3b.	Coleman, 3b.
Householder, r.f.	Lynch, c.f.
Raymer, 2b.	Fisher, 1b.
Malnes, 1b.	McFadden, ss.
Dashwood, c.	De Vogt or Byrnes, c.

Pitchers — For Victoria, Lane, Thomas, Marshall, McCreery, Starke, Narveson or Rush; for Tacoma, Hall, Whalen or Schmitz.

Victoria will play in Tacoma Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and if the above men make good they are pretty sure of a permanent lodging place in the camp.

Lynch, discussing his team, says: "De Vogt probably will do the catching, as Byrnes split his thumb in a practice game in California. The thumb is mending rapidly, but it is doubtful if it will be in shape for the game. Whichever of the three pitchers show the best form will be used in the box. I am not making any predictions as to the pennant, beyond saying that my team will be close to the top when the season ends."

BALL TEAM MEETS U. OF W.

On Friday and Saturday the Victoria Baseball team will go up against the hardest proposition they have yet tackled, in the University of Washington nine. The collegians played both Seattle and Vancouver two very close games and have announced that they will be in better condition than ever when they come to Victoria. The following is the team: Kerry c.; Sturgis, Beck and Johnson, p.; Baker, 1b.; Mucklestone, 2b.; Arney, s. a.; Lockwood 3b. (Capt.); Hicklingbottom, 1b.; Wells, cf.; and Coyle, rf.

ABOUT BASEBALL

Walter Johnson, Washington's great pitcher, who is visiting at his home in Coffeyville, Kansas, declares that Manager McAleer has come to terms, and that the Senators will have him in the box again this year. Johnson would not go into the figures of the salary to be paid him.

"I have got what I asked," he said, "and the incident is closed. I will play for Washington again."

The hidden-ball trick has already been worked several times in the Coast league with the season less than two weeks old. Tim Murnane, of the Boston Globe, believes the ethics of baseball are violated when an innocent base runner is tricked in this manner, but it would seem that it is up to the man on the bases to keep his eyes open.

President Taft opened the baseball season to-day by tossing the ball from his box in the new American league park grandstand for the game between the Boston and Washington teams.

Pitcher Addie Joss, of the Cleveland Americans, suffered a slight re-lapse yesterday, his pleurism attack compelling him to take to his bed. His physicians says it will be some time before Joss is able to use his pitching arm.

A drizzling rain to-day may make it necessary to postpone the opening game scheduled for the Chicago and St. Louis National league clubs in Chicago. Both Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago team, and Roger Bresnahan, of the St. Louis players, say their men are in perfect condition.

BASEBALL SEASON STARTED TO-DAY

Weather Conditions Were Favorable in Most of Eastern Centres

The American baseball season opens to-day with games at Louisville, between the home team and Kansas City; at Indianapolis, between the Indianapolis team and the Milwaukee players; at Columbus, Ohio, between Columbus and St. Paul.

Favorable weather conditions prevail at Louisville and Columbus. At Indianapolis clearing weather is reported.

Detroit, Mich., April 12.—American.—The Detroit team will cross bats with Chicago here this afternoon in the opening game of this season, weather permitting. Ed. Walsh, the "spitball" twirler of the Chicago team, will oppose George Mullin, the oldest member of Detroit's pitchers.

St. Louis, April 12.—With a ground thoroughly soaked by rain and under skies that threaten another downpour, the American League baseball season will open here this afternoon. The game is between the local and Cleveland teams. Each club is ready for the umpire's call, "play ball." The St. Louis team will appear for the first time under the management of Rhodriguez Wallace.

Washington, April 12.—American.—Washington will oppose Boston in the opening game here to-day. President Taft is on the programme to toss the first ball from his private box in the new concrete grandstand. Weather conditions are of an uncertainty and may cause a postponement of the game.

Boston, Mass., April 12.—National.—Boston and Brooklyn will open the season here to-day. The sky is clear and the prospects for opening the season are good.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 12.—National.—Pittsburgh and Cincinnati start the season's baseball here this afternoon. It has been raining all night and indications are the weather will not clear before time for play is called. The batteries announced are: Camnitz and Gibson for Pittsburgh, and McQuillan and McLean for Cincinnati.

New York, April 12.—National.—At the Polo grounds the New York Giants and the Philadelphia will meet in the opening game to-day. Weather prospects were favorable. The batteries probably will be Moore and Doolin for Philadelphia and Ames and Myers for New York.

Boston, April 12.—National.—Sporting

Boston awoke to-day from her long winter nap to the call of ball with the tailenders of the league of last year's season. Boston and Brooklyn as the attraction. This forenoon the sky was clear. The local team has changed ownership, manager, captain and players since last year.

BASEBALL RESULTS

San Francisco, Cal., April 12.—Fast fielding and pitching kept the score down to 2 to 0 in the Oakland-Portland game here yesterday, with Oakland on the winning end. Knight outclassed Seaton in the pitchers' battle, holding the visitors to two hits and scoring five strike-outs. Oakland's runs were gathered in the fifth and sixth. There were five double plays.

Score: R. H. E.
Portland 0 2 3
Oakland 2 6 2

Batteries—Seaton and Kuhn; Knight and Mize.

Sacramento, April 12.—Sacramento continued its winning streak yesterday and took Los Angeles to camp in a game marked by heavy hitting and errors. The final score stood 9 to 5. Delhi was found for 11 hits in seven innings and was replaced in the eighth by Fien, whom the locals proceeded to try for a triple and another run.

Score: R. H. E.
Los Angeles 5 7 4
Sacramento 9 12 5

Batteries—Delhi, Fien and Smith; McLeod, Fitzgerald and Thomas. Umpire, Finney.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 12.—San Francisco won its first game of the season here yesterday by defeating Vernon 9 to 3. It was a game of heavy hitting and the scoring was started in the first inning. A total of 26 hits for the game was equally divided. In the second inning Patterson, Vernon's second baseman, missed his swing at the ball and wrenched his right side badly. He continued and made a double to left-centre, but was compelled to leave the game in the next inning. Score: R. H. E.

Vernon 3 13 5
San Francisco 9 13 2

Batteries—Castleton Schaefer and Sheehan; Eastley and Berry.

ALL WHO APPLY ARE TO BE REINSTATED

At Meeting of B. C. A. A. U.
To-morrow Night Many Applications Are Expected

To-morrow night the professional-amateur situation in Victoria will probably be cleared up for the year, at least. The local branch of the B. C. A. A. U. is holding an emergency meeting, and it is thought that between 15 and 20 applications for reinstatement will be received.

Before the baseball and lacrosse series commence it is absolutely imperative that the professional taint be removed from every infected athlete, for if one escapes it is almost certain that the B. C. A. A. U. would have the same situation to cope with in the baseball and lacrosse leagues as it had in the football league. Accordingly, a letter was sent by the amateur officials to the Lacrosse Association not long ago asking them to be sure and have every blacklisted man who proposes to play lacrosse this summer on hand to-morrow night.

Answering the association secretary said there were seven or eight lacrosse players who had been suspended, and they had promised to apply in person for reinstatement. Besides these there are the baseball players, quite a few of whom will have to appear if they wish to play ball this summer.

The parent body of the amateur union in Vancouver has approved of the efforts the local officials are making to clear up the disagreeable situation in Victoria, and have placed the matter entirely in their hands. Therefore as long as a player has not accepted money for any of his games and applies in person to-morrow night, presenting at the same time a written application, there is no doubt but that he will be reinstated.

SPORT NOTES

The J. B. A. A. track team will start training at the Oak Bay grounds some time within the next few weeks. Harold Beasley, the crack 100-yard runner, has already begun drilling and, without doubt, enter the Pacific coast championship meet to be held at Portland. The Bays are having the grounds at Oak Bay thoroughly overhauled, and it is expected that they will be in shape before the end of the month. Among those who will form the team are the following: Harold Beasley, 100 yards; H. Johnson, formerly a Vancouver runner, winner of the Gold Seal race in that city for several years; W. Day, champion senior miler; George Dickson, Joe Moore, McGuigan, Valo, McKay, MacDonald, of the University school; McLean and Gregg. The team will have its first trial on May 24.

Joe Leon, the Chicago boxer, was indicted on charges of manslaughter and engaging in an illegal fight by the Houlton, Maine, grand jury yesterday. Leon is in readiness for his trial, which will be held soon. The charge is for the death of Billy Dunning, who died twenty-four hours after having been knocked out by Leon in the fifth round of a boxing match at Presque Island last November.

That he has played his last tennis match was the statement made at Boston by Jay Gould after he had won the national court indoor tennis championship for another year by defeating former Champion Crane of Boston, in three straight sets by the score of 6-5, 6-1 and 6-0. Gould gave as his reason for quitting tennis his coming marriage.

Cut off from chicken, from automobiles, from the bank and the bones, John Arthur Jonsson, colored mitt artist, to-day is the sickest prize ring champion in the history of the game. Midway in the sentence of 25 days for using up gasoline too fast in his buzz-wagon, Johnson is mightily disgruntled and is taking his stay in the county jail, California, so hard that the "golden smile" has faded.

You Need Never Expect to Become Independently Wealthy from Interest on Capital In Savings Bank or Mortgages

Have you ever interviewed a man who has amassed considerable money in a few years and asked him how he acquired what might be considered a fortune in such a short space of time, and after an initial investment of a few dollars.

You know that it is impossible to accumulate much profit or become independent through money investment in Savings Banks at three or four per cent.

Invariably the men who become independent are those who buy in at the ground floor or opening price of propositions, since they are absolutely sure of finding themselves in the pathway of early and substantial profits.

The interest naturally following the promotion of a development of a proposition brings about a more marked degree of interest on the part of the general public, and in consequence thereof a more general investment.

For instance, the shares that are selling more readily for 25c in British Pacific Coal Co. represents a ground floor proposition since 25c is an opening price.

The shares will naturally be more eagerly sought after and more readily taken up by investors when selling at 50c, 75c or $1.00 two months hence.

These advances in price will be brought about by the development work on the property of The British Pacific Coal Company, which commences early in the month of May.

The property of the British Pacific Coal Company, Limited, is so well and favorably known in this city as to warrant the statement that it is undoubtedly an area of coal land of 8,320 acres, embracing a greater tonnage of first quality coal than any other like area of coal land in Canada.

Mr. Alexander Faulds, M.E., Inst. M.E., the engineer, reports on the property:

Appraisal
"Your properties are very valuable, being of adequate assemblages and magnitude, and excellently located, with their transportation facilities the potentialities of which, from the estimated quantities of coal they are likely to contain, are very vast and practically unlimited in depth."

"The value of 36,000,000 tons of bituminous coal in your properties for one coal seam 6 feet thick should be not less than $120 per acre, and anthracite not less than $180 per acre, the mean or average of which would be $150 per acre, exclusive of agricultural and timber value."

"These are most important facts, absolutely essential to the appraisal of these properties towards industrial enterprises."

"These 8,320 acres, or thereby, are an excellent and adequate commercial assemblage for colliery operations capable of producing a daily output of 1,000 tons for about 144 years."

Address your application and make cheques payable to the order of the trustee, T. R. Morrow, 617 Trounce Avenue, Victoria, B. C. Office Open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

"Taking the capitalization at $1,500,000 at 16 2-3 per cent gives $250,000 per annum, and taking an output of 1,000 tons daily, or 250,000 annually, at a profit of $1 per ton, would produce $250,000 per annum, or the capital recouped in six years, adding another year for contingencies, making seven years, or say, altogether, at the utmost, a period of 8 years."

Taking the estimated tonnage of 36,000,000 during the life of the mine at $1.00 per ton, would give a clear profit of $36,000,000, or $22.50 for every dollar invested.

"The assembled area of about 8,320 acres reported upon are held under license from the Provincial Government, which includes the coal rights and surface, with unpurchased or unleased timber thereon."

It would readily be seen that when an eminent authority stipulates so clearly that one seam alone in a property embraces such a quantity of coal as he practically guaranteed, the whole proposition is an investment of absolute security and great promise."

The British Pacific Coal Company, Limited, with their property fronting on Skidegate inlet, eighty miles distant from Prince Rupert, practically controls its own shipping facilities.

There are no difficult transportation problems, no excessive freight rates or hold-up for cars.

All coasting steamers make Skidegate Inlet, which inlet embraces one of the largest and one of the best harbors on the Pacific Coast.

Only a limited block of stock is being offered by the Trustee, T. R. Morrow, in The British Pacific Coal Company, Limited. The price may be advanced any day to 35c, 40c or 50c a share. If you are desirous of buying in at the ground floor price, you must lose no time in making application or calling at the office.

And remember that no application will be received for less than one hundred shares. Where all cash is paid, 25c per share, the Certificate will be issued at once.

Shares, however, may be acquired on easy terms, ten cents per share cash on application, the balance in three equal monthly instalments.

That is a cash payment on One Hundred shares at Ten dollars and three month payments at Five dollars, which places you in possession of a Certificate for One Hundred shares, which Certificate sets forth the fact that the shares are fully paid up and non-assessable, and have a par value of One dollar each.

British Pacific Coal Company shares represent a standard investment, coal is in the property, the market eighty miles distant, the finest shipping facilities on the Pacific Coast.

The property embraces an anthracite body of coal which analyses 83 per cent. fixed carbon, while the original bituminous coal sold in Vancouver runs from 43 to 53 per cent.

This means that shareholders of the British Pacific Coal Company may ship coal, a ton of which has twice the heat value of the original coal on the market to-day.

Anthracite coal is nearly all pure carbon and embraces the maximum quantity of heat production.

Anthracite coal receives the preference by ship owners since more space will be available in the ship's hold for freight, consequently there will be less stoking, less clinker and ash through a total combustion.

Lose no time in communicating in person or by letter with the Office of the Trustee and receive full particulars pertaining to this proposition.

Remember, that the shares were sold at ten cents, which in the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company a few years ago, were absorbed by the Great Northern at over three hundred and eighty dollars per share.

This means that the man who bought one hundred shares at the original price of ten cents per share paid for the same but ten dollars, yet was able to sell out his holdings two years after at three hundred and eighty dollars per share, or a total revenue of thirty thousand dollars.

The Engineer in summing up the British Pacific Coal Company, Ltd., says that in one seam of coal alone, for every dollar invested, there is an asset for the shareholder of Twenty-two dollars and fifty cents.

This means that the man who buys One hundred shares, paying for the same Twenty-five dollars, is given the assurance that one seam out of the six seams on the property represents an asset for said One hundred shares amounting to Three hundred and sixty-two dollars and fifty cents.

This, however, does not include the asset represented by the other coal seams in the property equally as valuable, the surface rights of 8,320 acres or the timber which covers the property and which is exceptionally valuable.

In view of such representations it is surely interesting enough to the reader to cause him to make further inquiries concerning this proposition in person at the office of the Trustee. While those at a distance should lose no time in the matter; rather write in at once by first mail, making a request for a reservation of shares at twenty-five cents, and asking for full particulars. The reservation will be held until the writer will have time to receive particulars from the Office of the Trustee.

The Trustee gives this notice to the public that it is only a matter of a few days until the advanced price is announced and the 25c issue withdrawn.

The Satisfaction You Get With a Fit-Reform Suit

You can't judge pleasure by price. Take your old brier pipe, for instance—think of the hours it has lightened, the comfort it has given. Would 50c. or a dollar's difference in price keep you from getting another just like it? The cost is forgotten but the satisfaction remains. So it is with Fit-Reform Suits. It is the style—the graceful appearance—the ease and comfort—the pleasure in wearing them—that you remember.

said Captain Simmons. "Well, you see, they needed more men there early in 1861 to man the guns. I was a youngster not long in the army, but I had been brought up beside the artillery, you might say, for my father ran a planing mill at Troy—right beside the arsenal. General Wool knew father and it was through him that I enlisted. They stationed me at the Governor's Island headquarters. It was after Major Anderson abandoned Fort Moultrie that they detached ten of us, one a sergeant, and sent us aboard a supply steamer bound for Charleston.

"We landed the supplies at Sumter and there we stayed till the evacuation. Some have called it a surrender. That's wrong. The garrison never surrendered. We marched out with all the honors of war—drums beating, carrying our side arms, and carrying our flag after firing a salute of fifty guns to the Stars and Stripes.

"Those were anxious days. We believed the fleet would come to reinforce us. Then the Confederates fired on the Star of the West and drove her back. Some of the boys were impatient. We could see the enemy building batteries all around us. That was war, some said, and why didn't Major Anderson fire on them and stop them? But Major Anderson knew what he was doing. He was without orders and he let them fire the first gun, so it could never be said that our side began the fighting.

"It roused us, though, to see the Confederates' flag flying on their tugboats running about the harbor. We wanted to fire on them pretty soon. There was one brave little woman in the fort, the wife of a sergeant—Mr. Donnell—and once she went right up to Major Anderson and said to him: 'Major Anderson, if you don't fire on that flag I'm going to fire on it myself.'

"We had to wait, however, as it was the harder because the officers of the regulars, unlike the volunteers, kept to themselves, and we heard little news from any one. It came at last, however, was early in the morning, just at daybreak, that the enemy opened on us. We could see thousands of them. The houseboats in Charleston were black with people and there was just a company of us, a few more than seventy besides the officers. But we were all determined to resist to the end. The fleet was there, off the harbor entrance, and there was still hope for reinforcement and supplies. Food was short. Some days the ration was reduced to a few crackers, but we joked about such things.

"Major Anderson and Captain Abner Doubleday, afterward a general, who commanded the artillery company that made up most of the garrison, were everywhere that day. Captain Doubleday was calling out the orders to us.

I had been detailed to carry ammunition. The shells were all piled up around the big guns—old smoothbores they were. But the powder in cartridges were carried from the magazines as it was needed. I was sent from one gun to another. They were all numbered.

"After a time the smoke got so thick it was hard to see anything not close at hand. They began to get a good line on us too. I saw two big guns jump right off their trunnions when the enemy's shots hit them. But the gunners weren't hurt. Not a man was killed in the fort during the bombardment. After it was all over some ammunition was exploded in moving it and one man was killed, I believe.

"Most of the Confederate shots were fired too high. We could hear them whistling far above our heads. That made one man's act the more daring and dangerous. I'll never forget it. A ball struck the flag halloward and cut it. Down came the flag. Of course, it had to go up again. In a few minutes a sergeant with a hammer tied fast to him shinned right up the staff. The flag was wrapped around him. It only took him a few minutes to nail the flag fast to the pole. We cheered him as he came down and our commander shook his hand.

"When the barracks caught fire from some of the enemy's hot shot it began to bother us. We fought the fire, expecting every minute it would cause an explosion within the fort. Some of the ammunition got so hot that it had to be thrown out of the portholes into the water. The smoke was so thick that it interfered with the working of some of the guns, and the men were moved to other pieces.

"After a time the enemy's fire ceased, and some one called out that they were sending a flag of truce to us. The roar of the constant cannonading was silenced, and we all looked out of the ports. Sure enough, a boat was being rowed across the harbor to the fort. A man in the boat waved a white flag. Before they reached the landing Major Anderson and all his staff in full uniform were on the way to meet them. The Confederate officer on the boat demanded the surrender of the fort. Major Anderson called out so we could hear his reply.

"If you want this fort you'll have to come and take it."

"The boat went back. Our officers returned to their stations within the fort and they began pounding us again. Three times they sent the white flag to us, and each time they got the same reply. The third time, however, General Beauregard, wishing to avoid unnecessary bloodshed, had instructed his messengers to offer terms for an honorable abandonment of a post we could not hope to maintain owing to a shortage of ammunition and supplies. Major Anderson reached an agreement with them. That was the second day of the bombardment.

"Of course we felt pretty blue when we heard the news, but we knew there was no way out of it. We gathered together our personal belongings, which we were allowed to take with us along with our side arms. On the third day from the beginning of the attack we manned the guns again and fired a salute of fifty guns to our flag. Then the steamer came up to take us off. We switched without a sound while the flag was lowered. In line the garrison marched aboard the boat, colors flying, drums beating.

"I remember the band struck up 'Yankee Doodle' just as we reached the deck. Then we cheered for the first

COST OF LIVING IN AMERICAN CITIES

British Board of Trade Issues Report—Comparison With Cost in Old Country

London, April 12.—Copies of a report on the cost of living in American cities, based on inquiries made in 28 representative towns by officials of the British board of trade, were circulated in parliament last evening.

The report makes a voluminous budget of 533 pages, and covers the question of working class housing, retail prices of commodities and rates of wages in the United States, compiled for purposes of comparison with the conditions of workers in Great Britain and other countries.

The conclusions reached are: "The cost of food and rent combined is 52 per cent. greater in the United States than in England and Wales, but these heavier relative charges on working class incomes have been accompanied with weekly wages, which are as 230 to 100."

The report adds that this ratio of money earnings is more than 2 1/2 times as great as in England and Wales, and "makes possible a command of necessities, conveniences and minor luxuries of life that is both nominally and really greater than that enjoyed by the corresponding class in this country, although the effective margin in practice is curtailed by a scale of expenditures to some extent necessary, and to some extent voluntarily adopted in accordance with the different and higher standard of material comfort."

FORTUNE IN PUZZLES.

New York, April 12.—Sam Lloyd, the well-known puzzle expert whose problems have interested not alone the rising generation, but others, died yesterday at his home in Brooklyn from a stroke of apoplexy. He was 76 years old. For many years Mr. Lloyd has been famous throughout the country for his popular problems for the amusement of newspaper and magazine readers. In this unique calling he built up a fortune that has been estimated at more than $1,000,000.

CIVIL WAR BEGAN FIFTY YEARS AGO

FORT SUMTER FIRED UPON APRIL 12, 1861

Last Survivor of Little Band of Defenders Lives in New York

Fifty years ago to-day the American civil war began by the Confederates, under General Beauregard, firing on Fort Sumter, which was defended by Major Robert Anderson and a small garrison. Two days later the fort which guarded the harbor of Charleston, S. C., surrendered to the vastly superior force of Carolinian Confederates. In a recent issue the New York Herald contains a story of the defence from the last known survivor of Anderson's force. That papers says:

Half a century ago the eye of the nation was upon Sumter, the lone fortress where the federal power, elsewhere relaxed, had tightened upon Charleston a grip which the South Carolina secessionists in their fiery enthusiasm were comparing to the despairing hold of a dying man. Determined to sever if need be the last tie that bound upon it the authority of the Union, the seceding State had demanded the surrender of the stronghold. To attempt to reinforce the little garrison under Major Robert Anderson was perhaps to precipitate the war for which Uncle Sam was worse than unprepared.

Yet at least a few more men, permitting the defenders to man a single tier of guns, were needed if the resistance were to be more than a farce.

Responding to the repeated pleas of the iron hearted commander, ten artillerymen were sent secretly from the headquarters of the commanding general of the department of the East, on Governor's Island, as part of the crew of the supply boat which visited the fort at regular intervals carrying food and other necessities. These men took part in the defence against the bombardment of April 12, 1861, which started the world with an awakening to war at last inevitable.

One of the ten men who were sent on this desperate mission still lives. His comrades long ago disappeared from view. Probably he is the sole survivor. Every officer in the fort is recorded as dead. The last of the forlorn hope, at that time a private in the regular army is Captain George W. Simmons, who rose to distinction in the volunteers of this, his native State.

In his old age, and suffering from some of its attendant infirmities, Captain Simmons, with more than seventy years to time's score against him, lives with his wife at the home of their son-in-law, Dr. Charles Kirchoff, at No. 527 St. Ann's avenue, in the Bronx. The veteran, white haired and bent with arthritis, but whose blue eyes look out upon the world as fearlessly as those of youth, is one of the patriarchs of the neighborhood. He is a comrade of Robert Anderson Post, Grand Army of the Republic, which decorates the grave of the commander of Sumter at West Point every Memorial Day.

SURVEY SHIP TO BE SOLD SHORTLY

TENDERS BEING CALLED FOR PURCHASING EGERIA

Imperial Authorities Disposing of Vessel Ranking as Amongst Obsolete

At last the Imperial naval authorities have decided to dispose of H. M. S. Egeria, the old survey ship which has been lying idle in Esquimalt harbor since last autumn while the crew has been standing by her has been engaged in stripping her. Tenders will be received by the commanding officer of the vessel at the naval station for the purchase of her till noon on Thursday of next week. Those who intend making a bid for the ship are invited to inspect the list of stores and fittings included in the sale.

A ship considered as one of the best of her class when launched on the waters of Milford Haven, and a ship which has done a great deal in charting the many rocks and islets which have proved dangerous to shipping in British Columbia waters, the Egeria has a history which would fill several volumes of interesting matter. During her fighting days she has been in the China squadron as well as several other fleets of the English navy.

She was launched at Pembroke dock in 1875 and is still on the effective fighting list. In 1894 the Egeria left China in command of Commander Field, R.N., and was paid off at Chatham on 14th July of that year. She then recommissioned at Sheerness on 14th January, 1897, leaving England on 2nd February of the same year and proceeding to Esquimalt. During her term of service here she has surveyed the greater part of the coast of Vancouver Island, Queen Charlotte Sound, north coast of Dixon Entrance, Brown and Edye Passages, Dundas Island, Port Simpson and approaches, Ogden Channel and Schooner and Beaver Passages; also main portion of Straits of Georgia and Hare Straits.

Amongst the bidders for the ship will in all probability be the Navy League of Vancouver, which has been dickering for the craft for some time. Recently the league forwarded to Ottawa a proposal for the purchasing of the Egeria, but as no one there had power to deal with it, it was later sent to the Imperial authorities. It is thought that the proposal of the society has had something to do with the action of the heads of the navy in England. Whether the Canadian government will hand in a tender for the purchase of the vessel to be used as a training ship is not known here.

BAD WEATHER ONCE AGAIN EXPERIENCED

Venture Encounters Heavy Gales and Big Seas in Northern Waters

After a very dirty trip to northern British Columbia ports, the Boscowitz steamer Venture returned to the inner harbor docks late last night. The vessel encountered heavy weather from the time she entered Queen Charlotte Sound on her northbound trip until she again sheltered between the shores of the Mainland and Vancouver Island on her return passage.

Strong winds blowing from all points of the compass assailed the vessel all the time she was in northern waters. Besides the variable gales the weather was bitterly cold and at Bella Coola there was ten degrees of frost.

In spite of the adverse conditions the Venture was only delayed a few hours in reaching this port. She did not seek shelter from any of the heavy winds but ploughed her way along and made every call on the run without losing much time. Considerable snow was encountered during the trip and at times it fell very heavily.

The Venture brought south a large number of passengers and also a great deal of general freight. She will sail again to-morrow night.

FRISCO MARINE NEWS.

Steam Schooner Washington Sold—Many Charters Have Been Made.

San Francisco, April 12.—It was reported yesterday that the steam schooner Washington, built in 1906 at Seattle and owned by Sound parties, has been sold for $40,000 to Olson and Mahony, who will operate her. The vessel is at present laid up at this port. The British steamer Ethelwold, now en route from the West Indies for Vancouver with sugar for the British Columbia refinery, has been chartered by the L. P. Lee Lumber Co. to load on the Columbia river for South Africa.

The schooner A. M. Baxter, now at Port Allen, has been chartered by the Compagnie Du Boie to load lumber on Grays harbor for Santa Rosa. The Norwegian steamer Jethou and the British steamer Warden, both at Honolulu, have been ordered to proceed in ballast to Newcastle, N. S. W., the former to load coal for Honolulu and the latter coal for San Francisco.

The barkentine Lahaina arrived yesterday from Newcastle with coal. She made a slow passage of 82 days, leaving on the same day as the schooner W. H. Talbot, which has not been heard from. The Lahaina has no outward charter.

It is reported that the damage to the British steamer Cacique is very extensive, owing to her stranding in the Lagartie channel when bound up to Valparaiso. She was only built last year and is valued at $250,000, being 4,890 gross tons. The Cacique left New York on January 31 for the west coast. She called at Norfolk on February 2 and at Bahia Blanca on March 1. The Cacique is owned by the New York & Pacific Steamship Company, and is operated from New York by W. R. Grace & Co.

SAILS ON NORTHERN SURVEYING CRUISE

Lillooet, in Command of Capt. Musgrave, Left Esquimalt Harbor Yesterday

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Dominion hydrographical steamer Lillooet, Capt. Musgrave, left Esquimalt harbor to continue her work in northern waters, after having been lying idle in the harbor since last November. During the winter months, owing to the boisterous weather in the north, the vessel is unable to pursue her work, and out of each year she is actively engaged in surveying the channels and dangerous waters of British Columbia but seven months. From Esquimalt she is heading for Grenville channel to complete the work which was commenced there some time ago. When she has finished this section of her assignment she will proceed to Skidegate bar and Hecate straits, where the task of locating dangerous reefs will be taken up. After that she will start surveying the harbors of the Queen Charlotte Islands, and later take soundings at the western entrance to Dixon entrance.

After being in dry dock for several days the Lillooet was floated out yesterday morning. She was thoroughly overhauled, her hull being scraped and painted, and her interior renovated. The vessel was in splendid shape for her cruise, for while she had been lying at Esquimalt during the winter her crew was engaged in suitably fitting her for the trip.

On her return to this port in November the Lillooet will have accomplished a great deal of work in locating many of the uncharted reefs and rocks in northern waters.

SPRING SKIN TROUBLES

Pimples, Eruptions and "Spotty Complexions."

At this season, scores of people—girls and young women especially—find their faces disfigured by pimples, dark spots, eruptions, etc. The skin needs attention—needs renovating after the trying time it has passed through during the winter.

Just think what it has gone through! You have been out in rain and sleet and snow. You have been at one moment perishing from skating, or some other exertion. Then you have stood to "cool off." You have spent hours of the day indoors at a temperature equal to summer heat. Then you have covered up your skin—except your face—and gone out into a temperature away below zero! No wonder that, with all these changes, the skin of the face and neck shows signs of needing attention. Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap are the remedies. Smear Zam-Buk lightly over the spots, the eruptions, the scaly patches, at night, and wash with Zam-Buk Soap (only 25c per tablet) each day. Then notice how quickly your appearance improves. As the rich, refined, herbal essences sink deep into the tissue, the hard, scurf-like patches are removed. Better color results. The cells of the skin become transparent. The blood coloring is able to impart its proper color to the tissue, and the scaly patches of health replaces the sallowness and pallor of disease.

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and diseases. Eczema, ulcers, ringworm, yield to its use. For cuts, burns, bruises, children's rashes, etc., it is unequalled, and for piles. Mothers will find Zam-Buk Soap best for baby's bath. All druggists and stores at 25c box for Zam-Buk and 25c tablet for 30c for 75c for the Soap. If you have any difficulty in obtaining, order from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and send price.

It is probably owing to the increasing dearth of provisions in St. Petersburg that an attempt is being made, says a St. Petersburg correspondent of the London Standard, to introduce the rabbit into Russia as an article of food. A first consignment of 500 rabbits reached St. Petersburg the other day. They are not wild rabbits, but have been bred in captivity for the market. Russia has plenty of hares, but rabbits cannot live over the winter in the greater part of the Empire owing to the heavy snowfalls.

WAS NEARLY COUNTED AMONGST LOST ONES

Sais, Which Has Arrived Here, Badly Battered in Bay of Biscay—Once Enough

Never before in his lengthy sea-faring career did Capt. Dinklage, of the Kosmos liner Sais, which arrived at the Outer dock this morning, experience such boisterous weather as when his good ship was crossing the Bay of Biscay on her way to this port. It was last December, and in the same storm which the Sais safely rode out, several larger vessels were sent to the bottom or were very badly damaged. On several occasions when the gale became so furious it was doubted by the officers as to whether the steamship would ever make port.

She was three days late in arriving at Las Palmas, the lengthy delay having been caused by the adverse weather conditions. As the mighty combers hurled themselves over her bow they pounded the deck severely and the heavy iron plates were dented in many places. Several beams were broken and a number of the floor-boards into the cabin forward were lifted from their hinges, while the iron work was badly strained.

Three days were required to make the trip up to this port from San Francisco and Capt. Dinklage this morning was comparing it with the time he made on his last voyage from the Golden Gate, when he took six days to make the trip. The weather from Triaco north was moderate, strong westerly gales together with strong swells being encountered.

The Sais is discharging here 400 tons of nitrate loaded at Chilean ports for the Victoria Chemical Company. She is leaving this evening for Seattle and other points on the Sound.

TURKISH BATH CURES RHEUMATISM AT HOME

COSTS BUT 20c A BATH, AND THE BODY IS RID OF URIC ACID POISON, WITH ASTONISHING RAPIDITY.

Quickly Cures Kidney Trouble, Nervous Prostration and All Skin Diseases.

The Robinson Thermal or Turkish bath, taken at home, is becoming a rage. Those who have used the bath have been completely carried away with enthusiasm because of the astonishing results obtained.

Well known physicians say that the Robinson Thermal Bath at home, is about to become an almost universal conqueror of disease. This is not an exaggeration. Any man or woman can prove its results inside of 24 hours, in some cases 30 minutes.

In cases of rheumatism, especially, the uric acid poison is extracted from the system through the pores, almost as liquids are sucked up through a straw. Drugs merely smother the poison or ease the pain. They do not extract the poison from the body.

Anyone can now take Robinson Thermal baths at home and at a cost of only about 2c a bath. The only way to take a Turkish bath is by the use of the Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinet, which is a unique and marvellous invention.

The Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinets can now be seen and examined in Victoria at Cyrus H. Bowes.

Ask the dealer also for a copy of that great book, "The Philosophy of Health and Beauty." The regular price is $2.00, but you can get one free now for only a limited time.

If you cannot go yourself, just send your name and address to the Robinson Manufacturing Company, Suite 119, Snowflake Building, Toledo, Ohio, for full illustrated information, free.

There is ever this difference between the wise and the unwise: the latter wonders at what is unusual, the wise man wonders at the usual.—Emerson.

OPEN COAL MINES AT SKIDEGATE INLET

The British Pacific Company Makes an Attractive Announcement to Public

T. R. Morrow, of 617 Trounce avenue, is local agent for a very ambitious scheme which has just been put before the public, as will be seen by advertisement in another column. This is the offer of shares in the just-formed British Pacific Coal Company, which purposes opening up vast coal areas on Skidegate Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands.

Alex. Faulds, M.E., Inst. M. E., reports on the property of the company as follows: "Your properties are very valuable, being of adequate assemblages and magnitude, and excellently located, with their transportation facilities the potentialities of which, from the estimated quantities of coal they are likely to contain, are very vast and practically unlimited in depth."

"The value of 35,000,000 tons of bituminous coal in your properties for one coal seam six feet thick should be not less than $120 per acre, and anthracite not less than $180 per acre, the mean or average of which would be $150 per acre, exclusive of agricultural and timber value. These $150 acres, or thereabouts, are an excellent and adequate commercial assemblage for colliery operations capable of producing a daily output of 1,000 tons for about 144 years."

"Taking the capitalization at $1,500,000 at 16 2-3 per cent. gives $250,000 per annum, or the capital recouped in six years, adding another year for contingencies, making seven years, or say, altogether, at the utmost, a period of eight years."

"Taking the estimated tonnage of 35,000,000 during the life of the mine at $1 per ton, would give a clear profit of $35,000,000, or $22.50 for every dollar invested."

The British Pacific Coal Company, Ltd., with its property fronting on Skidegate Inlet, eighty miles distant from Prince Rupert, practically controls its own shipping facilities. There are no difficult transportation problems, no excessive freight rates or hold-ups for cars. All coasting steamers make Skidegate Inlet, which is one of the best and largest harbors on the coast.

Only a limited block of stock is being offered at 25 cents per share by the trustee, T. R. Morrow, and it is hinted that the price may be advanced any day.

DEMOCRATS FAVOR RECIPROCITY

UNDERWOOD BILL
TO BE SUPPORTED

President Will Be Urged to Continue Negotiations
With Canada

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Reciprocity with Canada and a farmers' free list, it was decided at the Democratic caucus held here last night, will be the legislation taken up in the order named by the present House of Representatives. The wool and cotton schedules, according to present intentions, will follow.

On the free list will be included those things which the farmer needs most, namely, agricultural implements, dressed meat and meat products, flour, rough lumber, boots, shoes, and saddles, wire fencing, balling wire, cotton tagging, cotton ties, bagging ties, bur-lap. On many of these products the present tariff is practically prohibitive, and there are few importations on that account. It is impossible for this reason to estimate what the difference will amount to by putting them on the free list. The caucus voted a straight endorsement of the Underwood reciprocity bill, 125 ayes, 29 noes and six not voting present.

The caucus added a provision to the Underwood reciprocity bill calling on the president to continue negotiations with Canada with a view of establishing further reciprocal trade relations. Mr. Fitzgerald, New York, fought this provision, but he was voted down. In the debate which followed Chairman Underwood's presentation of the general plan, a disposition developed on the part of several members to demand that the Canadian reciprocity and free list bills be combined. Representatives Rucker of Colorado and Sherley of Kentucky, led in efforts to override the majority, but the programme of the ways and means committee was generally supported.

The introduction of the Canadian bill and the farmers' free list in the way of immediate introduction of three other measures—popular elections of senators, publicity before elections for campaign contributions and statehood for Arizona and New Mexico. These are not to be treated as caucus measures but will come in as party bills, and will be taken up for action as soon as they can be reported from their committees.

Another caucus is to be held to debate the revision of the wool and cotton schedules, to be taken up in the House following the passage of the reciprocity and free list bills.

A European government, the first to raise the point, was advised yesterday by the state department that the tariff concessions offered to Canada under the pending reciprocity agreement will not be extended by the United States to other nations under the "most favored nation" clause of their treaties with this country. The department's reply pointed out that a reciprocity arrangement was in the nature of a bargain, the United States lowering the tariff bars in return for similar concessions. The privileges granted Canada could be obtained by other countries only through special arrangements.

TELEPHONE LINE TO THE BOUNDARY

Dominion and Provincial Government Will Be Asked to Assist

Vancouver, April 12.—Complaining of the connecting telephone service furnished by the Pacific States Telephone Company, which carries B. C. Telephone Company business from one district to the other from Rossburg, the Associated Boards of Trade of eastern British Columbia have asked the B. C. Telephone Company to build a connecting line from Cascade, in the Boundary district, to Rossland. They also desire a through line from the Boundary to the coast. On account of the lack of business there the company has replied that it cannot build the lines desired at present and a scheme is under way to ask the provincial and Dominion governments to lend aid so as to have an all-Canadian line from Nelson through to Victoria, thus helping to divert Kootenay and Boundary business from Spokane to the coast cities.

CAR JUMPS TRACKS.

San Francisco, Cal., April 12.—While ascending the steep hill between Stockton and Powell streets, a Sacramento street cable car jumped the track and was hurled to the bottom of the incline, injuring seven persons, none seriously. The passengers did not jump but remained in their places. They were bruised by splinters and broken glass.

KILLING OF SEALS.

Slaughter of Females in Russian Rookeries Exhausts Herds.

St. Petersburg, April 12.—In accepting the American proposal to hold a seal fishery conference in Washington, the Russian government appears to be animated by a somewhat belated desire to repair the mistake committed at the Behring Sea conference in not endorsing the 60-mile limit. The result has been that the seal rookeries in the Commander Islands are rapidly becoming exhausted.

These fisheries are leased to a Russian company under a contract which expires this year. The substance of the report drawn up by the official sent by the government to report upon the condition of the rookeries is as follows: Whereas formerly 30,000 to 50,000 skins were obtained annually, the present yield does not exceed 4,000. Even this number is attained only by the slaughter of a fair proportion of young females. This procedure is necessary, since the killing off of the males is already leading to a decline in the number of brood-seals.

The conclusion arrived at is that unless some measures are taken to put a stop to pelagic sealing, it would be best to kill off the whole herd.

Although pelagic sealing has diminished the stock in the Pribyloff Islands, the enforcement of the 60-mile limit has enabled the Americans partially to cope with the evil. The main and indeed, the only offenders appear to be the Japanese. Although Japan has not recognized the 60-mile limit, American gunboats police it against all comers. In the waters around the Commander Islands, Japanese poachers, although frequently fired upon by the alert guards, commit depredations and boldly come ashore after fur-seal and otter.

Much satisfaction is felt here over the prospects of putting an end to this deplorable state of affairs. All the interested powers will be represented.

SENT TO PENITENTIARY.

Man Who Sent Black Hand Letters at Seattle Gets Five Years.

Seattle, Wash., April 12.—Five years in the federal prison at McNeill Island and a fine of $100 and costs was the sentence imposed on Chili Rossel, found guilty by a jury in the United States district court of sending Black Hand letters through the mails. Rossel was convicted on three counts, each for sending a letter to Fred Marino, a prosperous farmer of Georgetown, in which he demanded $1,000, and threatened Marino and his family with death if the money was not paid. Rossel was caught two months ago by detectives who placed a dummy package under a bridge where the money was demanded of Marino, was to be left.

Newark, N. J., April 12.—Seven years' imprisonment was the sentence meted out to each of four leaders of a Black Hand gang in the common pleas court here yesterday. A fifth prisoner, a wealthy Italian, was sentenced to three years. They were convicted of drugging and robbing two men.

ENGLAND'S BAD BOYS.

The home secretary has appointed a committee to inquire in general into the constitution, management, discipline, and education of reformatory and industrial schools in England and Wales, and to include in their inquiry the adequacy of the inspectorate, the relation of the schools to the education committees and other authorities, the qualifications of superintendents and other officers, their remuneration, and the practicability of any scheme of superannuation, variation in the type of schools, and whether further provision is necessary for proper grading of boys and girls, the suitability of ships for use as schools, the preparation given boys for entry into industrial or other careers, and the training and disposal of girls, the care of boys and girls after leaving the schools, and the relation of the schools in this connection to existing institutions for the welfare of young persons, the provision for physical training, recreation, and playtime, the opportunities for conference, and co-operation between managers and officials, the medical care of the schools, the methods of maintaining discipline and encouraging good conduct, and the extent to which further regulations with regard to punishments are desirable, the relations with parents, and the methods of obtaining payment for them.

The members of the committee are as follows: C. F. G. Masterman, M. P., chairman, under-secretary of state for the home department; A. A. Allen, M. P., member of the L. C. C. and at one time chairman of the special schools sub-committee; Erskine R. H. Blackwell, assistant under-secretary at the home office; Colonel Arthur Collins, C. NEW DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Otter Point Falls Into Line—District to Have Public Hall

(Special Correspondence.)

Otter Point, April 11.—At a meeting last week organization was completed of the Otter Point Development League. A large membership was enrolled. The main question taken up was road construction and repair. A committee was appointed to report at the next monthly meeting on recommendations to be made to the government regarding new roads and changes in present thoroughfares.

The Otter Point Public Hall association is about to acquire the present school house, which will shortly be vacated and will be transformed into a commodious public hall. M. Emerson, owner of the building, has very generously presented the building to the association.

An experiment in carrying freight from Victoria to Otter Point by motor truck was recently made by the Do-truck Motor Car Co. A large shipment was delivered at Captain Scarf's store in two hours from Victoria, which is considered a good performance.

W. H. Anderson has secured the contract for the erection of the new school house, and will commence operations at once.

J. Y. Margison and family have removed to the city to reside for a time.

LIVELY DISCUSSIONS.

Kamloops, April 11.—Ald. Cornwall submitted the estimates for the last meeting of the city council. Those of revenue were soon disposed of and most of the items of expenditure were passed without a great deal of discussion until it came to the streets department. The street committee wanted $15,000 to expend on the streets.

Several suggestions cutting this down to $11,000, but at once the whole streets committee rose in arms and strenuously objected.

In the course of his remarks, the mayor pointed out that men on the streets should be paid, according to their ability, at a standard rate of 50 cents an hour. The standard wage should be 25 cents an hour and the better men should be given more.

He would not sign cheques for wages at 30 cents an hour. The finance committee and water and light committee had already pared the estimates down several thousand dollars. Additional committee must reduce the estimates or the council must increase the rate of taxation to 22 mills. The assessment has been increased $750,000 and he did not think extra taxation should be imposed.

Ald. Baynton resented the mayor's remarks about the rate of wages and said he would find a way to get the cheques signed as had been done at New Westminster.

Ald. Rushton said the committee had gone all over the city and carefully prepared the estimates and he did not see why they should be cut down.

Finally the street estimates were taken up item by item and arguments pro and con were stated and reiterated. Items were cut down, omissions inserted and when the whole list had been gone through it transpired that the total amount was $14,500.

Several sharp interchanges of compliments took place between aldermen in the course of the debate but in the end the dove of peace reigned supreme and the whole of the estimates of expenditures were referred back to the several committees for further consideration, with the hope that additional paring can be done to obviate increasing the tax levy rate.

LABOR MEN ORGANIZE.

New Westminster Now Has Federal Labor Union—Officers Elected For Year.

New Westminster, April 11.—The labor men of New Westminster can now boast of having a federal labor union. R. A. Stoney, local organizer for the A. F. of L. presided at the organization meeting, and was assisted by D. B. Grant, H. E. Kerr and Business Agent Johnson of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

The election of officers resulted as follows: president, Patrick O'Connor; vice-president, A. W. Osterberg; recording secretary, J. Reay; financial secretary, S. Legins; treasurer, J. Goodmurry; guardian, Frank Jackson; delegates to Trades and Labor Council, J. Reay, H. A. Gilchrist and P. O'Connor.

The next meeting of the union will be held on April 23, when a guide and three trustees will be elected.

Competition is too keen and life is too strenuous for an employer to keep on his pay roll men who are not in mental or physical condition to perform their duties. Every line of business is closing its doors to "drinking" men. If you are drinking you will be your time next. Better stop drinking at once. Orrine, the standard remedy for the liquor habit, will help you. By the aid of Orrine the thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry, hence they have become worth more to their employers, and best of all they've made their loved ones happier.

Orrine is a simple home treatment. No loss of time while you are taking it. Start to-day. You will be surprised at the results. We are so sure that Orrine will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, we will give you money back.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms. No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. ORRINE No. 2 in pill form, for those who desire a more satisfactory treatment. ORRINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free Orrine Book, let mailed in plain wrapper, enclosing ORRINE COMPANY, Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. Orrine is recommended and is for sale in this city by C. H. Bowles, 123 Government street.

TAKING ROCK FROM MINERAL CLAIM

Chilliwack Council Warned by Locator—Votes at Municipal Contests

Chilliwack, April 11.—The city council was warned at its last meeting from disturbing the rock in the quarry recently purchased for road purposes. E. Allison, who has a mineral claim recorded on the property, gave notice to the effect that his property was being interfered with, and an appeal to the recognition of his rights, if not a hint at legal proceedings was made. According to Mr. Allison, a claim was staked by him last fall on the property now being cleared by the city for a rock quarry. The records at the mining office apparently bear out this claim and Mr. Allison is within his rights in making a protest. The members of the council on the other hand, while not wishing to interfere with the rights of a private citizen, are not so sanguine of there being a wealth of mineral in the rock, feel themselves quite safe in crushing it up and putting it on the city streets. In their opinion there is nothing too good for Chilliwack, and the paving of the streets with gold, silver, or copper must go on unless the prospect proves so rich that it would be pure extravagance to waste it on a road-bed.

Only registered owners of property in the city will be entitled to have a vote at the municipal elections after this year. The provincial laws respecting voters' lists will be carried out to the letter and no chance will be given for protesting against election of a candidate on the grounds of the voters' list being compiled with the names of persons holding property on an agreement of sale.

NELSON CRICKETERS.

Nelson, April 11.—The attendance at the annual gathering of the Nelson Cricket club was the largest in the history of that organization, and a great deal of enthusiasm was displayed in the prospects for the coming season in the city. The club is now in good financial standing and this year will have many new welders of the willow, as members, judging by the number of newcomers to the city who turned out.

President Crauford in his annual report stated that although the club had commenced last season with a deficit all indebtedness had been wiped out and the club now had a small balance in hand. As far as play was concerned the club had had a most successful and enjoyable year. He referred to the cricket tournament, here last summer and said that he hoped to see a similar event arranged here this season.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Patron, A. S. Goodve, M. P. hon. president, Fred A. Starkey; hon. vice-presidents, J. D. Kerr, A. E. Crease, C. R. Hamilton, K. C. C. W. Buak, Harry Wright, M. P. P., and A. M. Johnson; president, Leslie Crauford; treasurer, J. R. Banks; secretary, E. Lupton; committee, C. W. Bourke, A. Trogluis, H. Hackin, W. Hardcastle, E. Marsden, captain, A. C. Butler; vice-captain, A. Stubbs.

It was stated that no reply had been received from the Philadelphia team to the invitation to play here next summer.

The bat offered by his honor, Judge Forin, for the highest aggregate made by a batsman during the coast tour was, it is announced, won by Mr. Wrightson.

SCHOOL BY-LAWS PASSED.

Vancouver, April 11.—By-laws totaling $84,500 for school purposes have been passed by Burnaby ratepayers. The largest one for $75,000, which provides for school sites, was passed by a majority of 68. There were 101 votes in favor of the expenditure and 33 against, and for the smaller one there were 109 in favor of and 21 against, of a majority of 55. Considering that there are 3,000 names on the voters' list, the number of votes polled is small, but a larger turn out is expected next Saturday when the ratepayers will decide whether they will expend $500,000 on roads and $375,000 on a water system.

The by-law for $75,000 provides for an average cost of $10,000, and about $6,000 for an office and incidentals for the school board, including the site. If a new municipal hall is built this year, however, it is possible that provision will be made for offices for the school board, and in that case the sum will go towards the new hall.

The smaller by-law for $5,500, while not being used for new schools or sites, will enable the school board to repair and put all the present schools into good condition.

GORDON HEAD NOTES.

(Special Correspondence.)

Gordon Head, April 11.—On Tuesday, the 11th inst., a concert and dance will be held in the St. Luke's Parish hall under the auspices of the Cedar Hill Dramatic Club. A good programme of city talent is being arranged and an enjoyable evening is assured all who attend.

A WORD TO MOTHERS

The Chief Cause of Spring Eruptions and Chills Explained—
Every Mother Should Read This Article.

At this season of the year most people are troubled with Spring eruptions and skin irritations. This is an indication that the blood is full of impurities and can only be removed through the kidneys—the human filters.

In 99 out of 100 cases disordered kidneys are to blame for Spring weakness and disorder. Overworked, they have ceased to become effective and perform their functions very imperfectly. They have permitted impurities that should be removed from the human filter to get into the system—the blood overloaded with these impurities and impoverished conditions result.

This is the time all thoughtful mothers are anxious to ward off the dangers to her family that arise from weak and disordered kidneys. She knows that the old-fashioned way of urging is opposed to nature. The sick needs toning and bracing up and weakness by purgatives. Booth's Kidney Pills are not a laxative but a tonic. They go to the seat of the trouble and commence to build up strength in the same way as a builder builds a house. The kidneys are toned, the blood becomes purer and in a remarkably short time the glow of health is seen and felt.

As Booth's Kidney Pills are a guaranteed remedy, you are perfectly safe giving them a trial. The proprietors could not dare to guarantee them if they were not sure that they were the very best remedy for kidney trouble and would do all they claim for them. They are so well and carefully compounded that they are suitable for both young and old.

A Mother's Story of Her Efforts to Restore Health to Her 1-year-old Child and Her Discovery.

"My daughter, Elva, who is in her seventh year, suffered for the past two or three years with a weakness in her back and in the region of the kidneys. She could not lie in bed and the cold chills settled in her back. She was weak and languid and her health was not at all good. I had tried many different prescriptions but could find no good in any of them. I would have to apply hot plasters to her back at night, but this only gave slight temporary relief. I learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and commenced giving her this treatment, following the directions closely. I soon found Booth's Kidney Pills going to the cause of the trouble and giving her the long sought results. Her back gradually strengthened and she is better and stronger in every way. She has not suffered an attack of the trouble since, and I am thankful for what Booth's Kidney Pills did for her."—Mrs. Oliver Johnson, of Havelock, Lucknow, Ont.

All druggists sell Booth's Kidney Pills, 50c a box, or they can be obtained post paid on receipt of price.

FREE OFFER

So sure are the proprietors that Booth's Kidney Pills will do all that is claimed for them that they are willing to send every reader who suffers from kidney and Spring weakness a trial box free. Just address your letter to R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont., and mention this offer.

and imperial sentiment and in everything that made for the greatness of any country. The work of their party was more than that of bringing in immigrants and increasing of trade. It was the solving of the social problems, how to combat the trusts and how to teach the railway that the people were the masters. In these directions, he claimed, the Liberal party had already justified its existence. (Cheers.)

The chief concern of the Liberal party must be the interest of the great mass of the people to see that the privileged few did not have it all their own way. The interest of the average man was always the interest of the Liberal party. (Cheers.)

F. A. Pauline, in a short address, drew attention to a few points in British Columbia requiring urgent attention. One of these was the land question in the province.

"It is a positive disgrace," he said, "and it is making us the laughing stock of the other provinces of the Dominion. That must be stopped. In fact some phases of it have become so disgraceful that the government has been forced to put a stop to them. But the fact remains that the chance for a poor man to get hold of a piece of land suitable for cultivation at a reasonable price is not a very open one. You know that the chances are against the real settler getting the chance he deserves. After selecting a piece of land suitable for his purpose he invariably finds that he cannot pre-empt it."

Another question that ought to engage the attention of the electors in the city of Victoria was the education of their boys and girls which, he claimed, was quite inadequate. They had a large sum of money spent in the city every year upon the education of their children. In one year there would be five or six hundred boys and girls come forth from the schools into the world to earn their living, and any practical, fair minded man would say that they had not been rightly dealt with. These boys and girls did not get a square deal, because they were not as well equipped for the battle as they might be. He did not think that the money at present being spent on education was being spent to the best advantage.

In assuming charge of the second part of the programme Hugh Kennedy claimed that ward five was the best of the wards. Their organization of the five wards was now complete. They had one remaining duty, however, and that was to complete the organization for the whole city by electing the general officers, consisting of the president, vice-president and secretary and treasurer.

He also announced that the executive committee that afternoon had sent a recommendation to Ottawa concerning the tragic wreck of the Iroquois. The recommendation was in the following terms: "That in view of the two distressing marine accidents, entailing serious loss of life, during the past few days, the Dominion government be requested to appoint inspectors of loaded cargo at the ports of this province at the earliest possible moment."

The announcement was received with cheers.

The final speech of the evening was delivered by R. L. Drury. His opening theme was the opposition. He reminded them that during the regime of the Liberal administration more important questions had come up for consideration than ever before. Each of these questions had been met by the Conservative opposition with the same old cry. It did not concern them, that when in office they had endeavored to carry out the measures which they now so glibly condemned. They only saw a means of making a little party capital out of the situation, and that to them was of greater importance than the welfare of the nation. He referred them to the C. T. P. railway. Not only did that proposition meet with the opposition of the government's enemies, but it met with the opposition of many of its friends. It was claimed that the railway was premature and would be a dead loss for years. Now as a matter of fact they all knew that that railway was coming just in time. They also knew that it would be a great and immediate force in developing the wonderful resources of the northern country.

The Lemieux Act was another instance of the far-sightedness of the Liberal administration. That act, which had for its purpose the facilitating of agreements without recourse to strikes, has been condemned all along the line. Now it was acknowledged to be one of the finest pieces of legislation in existence, so much so that it was being copied by many other countries. It gave both parties to a disagreement about wages an opportunity of expressing their opinion and producing evidence to substantiate it before an impartial board of conciliation before a strike was called. In that way many possible strikes had been averted all over the country.

They had also created a railway board of commissioners so that the grievances of shippers and producers against the exorbitant rates of the various railways could be heard and rectified. That board had done good work. It had adjusted grievances, reduced freight rates where they had been proved to be exorbitant, and granted remedies all along the line. (Cheers.)

He also commended the government's immigration policy to their notice. He assured them that the great influx of population to this part of the country was no accident. It was part and parcel of a well-designed scheme. The great north-west had the eyes of the world turned upon it. It was that scheme of immigration on the part of the Dominion government that had brought employment and prosperity to the province of British Columbia. If they would but study the question, they would find that the present prosperity that was enjoyed in the province of British Columbia was almost entirely due to the settlement of, and the immigration to, the northwest inaugurated by the Dominion government.

In view of these facts was it not reasonable to think that the government which had been right on every other occasion would also be right in regard to reciprocity? They had the evidence on the one hand and only the vilified bark on the other. Let them recall the triumphs of the past few years under the Laurier administration and compare them with the empty words of the opposition, which had blackballed proposition after proposition which was now an accomplished and monumental fact, bespeaking the beneficent powers of the Laurier administration.

While in Toronto recently he had been much amused by the great demonstration of flag-waving indulged in by the Conservatives in their curious method of attacking reciprocity. It did not occur to them while they were banqueting that they might have had to eat cold meat but for the fact that their edibles were cooked by the anthracite coal, which had been imported from the other side of the line. They traded with the United States now, and surely they were going to import two million dollars' worth of goods from that country when the duty was on it would not develop into treason to continue importing it when the duty was removed. They did not trade with the United States to be loyal or disloyal; they traded with them because they needed the goods. (Cheers.)

It was amusing to him to read the arguments of the great financiers of the east. They, of course, enjoyed free trade in money and that was everything that was right and proper, but they could not see the force or the justice of letting the farmers and the workers have the same advantage of a freer market for their goods and for their labor. The same argument was used by the fire insurance people, yet during the last few years some of the biggest commercial houses in Canada, and certainly in Victoria and Vancouver, had been sending over the line and getting their risks covered by companies that did not operate in Canada at all. (Cheers.)

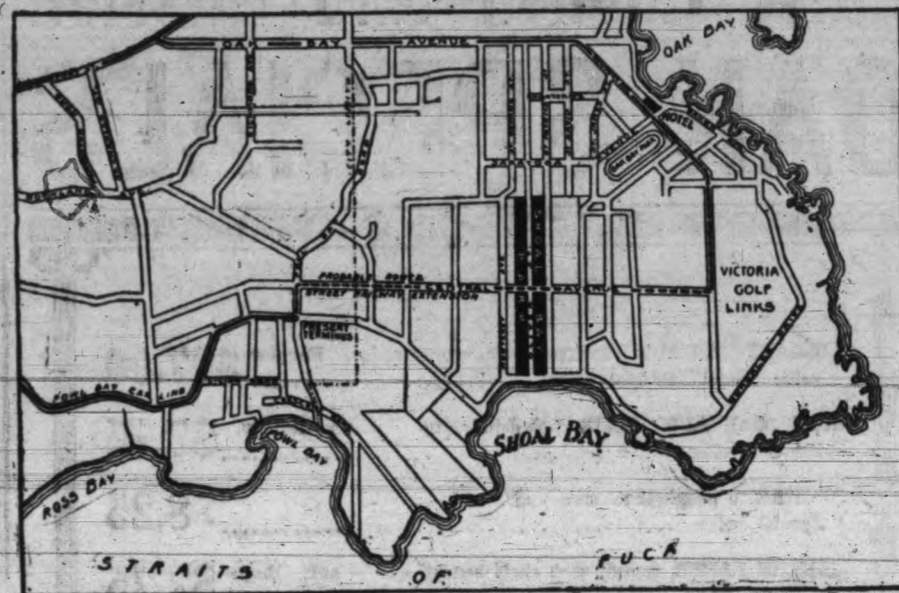

In conclusion Mr. Drury asked his hearers to take note of these things and see to it that the cry which had been successful in Victoria on the last occasion would fall to find a billet on the next. They could not afford to tolerate these things in Victoria, and he wanted them to show that they would not be tolerated by fair minded and intelligent men. (Cheers.)

The musical programme was one of the best that has yet been submitted to a political audience. The following artists contributed generously to the entertainment: The Welsh Quartette, J. N. Findlay, R. B. Mackenzie, Ernest Petch, Edmund Petch, W. Sells (cornet), Mr. Holding (mandolin), and that most popular comedian, "Jock" Melville.

There is a prevalent idea, says the Family Doctor, that slow eating is favorable to digestion, but this is often fallacious. The important point is, not that we eat slowly or fast, but that when we do eat we chew with energy. Slow eating begets a habit of mulling the food without really masticating it, whilst the hurried eater is inclined to swallow his food before proper mastication. Hence hurried eating is bad, but rapid mastication may be advantageous.

COUNCIL MEETS TO-NIGHT.

Estimates For the Year and Street Paving Resolution Will Be Considered.

The city council at their meeting to-night will fix the date for the sale of lands in arrears of taxes up to 31st December, 1908, as the 6th September next. Other work which the council will have on hand to-night will be the consideration of the estimates for the year. Ald. H. M. Fullerton's resolution moving that asphalt pavements with curbs and gutters be constructed upon a number of streets in the city will also come up for discussion. The scheme proposes that the permanent walks and boulevards shall be done by day labor, but that the pavements shall be done by contract work. The following are the streets which the resolution deals with: Minto street from Moss street to Rockland avenue; Woodland road from Moss street to Fairfield road; Carnes street from Moss street to Richardson street; Durban street from Woodland road to Richardson street; Walton street from Richardson street to Fairfield road; Brooks street from Walton street easterly to end of street; Clifford street from Woodland road easterly to the end of the street.

The inquest then adjourned.

The work of the three Indians, Cowichan Bob, Doughnut Charley and William Jack, who in their canoe did a great part in rescuing and bringing the saved ashore, is to be recognized by the residents of Sidney and Saanich. It has been suggested that a purse be subscribed for them, but yesterday nothing definite as to the form of recognition had been arranged.

Deceased was native of Victoria and was fifty years of age. The funeral will take place from the residence, 1628 Quadra street, at 3 p. m. and from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church at 3.30 to-morrow.

Inquiry to Be Held.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Ont. April 12.—The marine department has instructed Capt. Ed- die, examiner of officers and mates at Vancouver to make a preliminary inquiry into the loss of the Iroquois and report to Ottawa.

Urgent Inspection of Stowing. The executive of the Victoria Liberal Association yesterday afternoon adopted the following resolution and forwarded it to Hon. William Templeman, Ottawa:

"That in view of the two distressing marine accidents, entailing serious loss of life, during the past few days the Dominion government be requested to appoint inspectors of loading at the ports of this province at the earliest possible moment."

Acting on suggestions embodied in a speech by F. C. Wade the Vancouver board of trade, at its regular meeting last night resolved that a telegram be sent to the minister of marine calling attention to the conditions which made the Sechart and Iroquois disasters possible, and requesting that a complete official investigation be made into marine legislation and its enforcement on this coast. Mr. Wade stated that within a few days he had taken a trip to the north arm of the inlet in a steamer registered to carry some forty passengers, which at that time carried nearly 140. The purser was compelled to keep a constant watch over the passengers to see that they remained evenly divided on both sides of the boat to avoid upsetting. She was tried at half speed and full speed and rode as unsteadily one way as she did the other.

Resolution of Sympathy.

At the regular meeting of L. O. L. No. 1610, Monday night, the following resolution was passed unanimously:

"That this lodge mourns the terrible calamity that has befallen the city and district in the disaster to the S. S. Iroquois, and expresses its sympathy with the bereaved relatives of those who have lost their lives."

To Resume Service.

Capt. Seare stated to the Times this morning that he had secured a launch for the purpose of carrying out his mail contract. He will try to charter the City of Nanaimo, now lying up here, to resume the freight and passenger service pending the securing of a new boat for the Sidney-Nanaimo-Islands run.

ECZEMA WAS SPREADING

TILL D. D. D. CURED IT

This is a translation of a letter written in French, on April 16, 1910, by Mr. Dan Babin, Cap Lumiere, N.E. "I had been suffering with eczema for about 6 months, and had consulted several doctors who did not do me any good. The disease was spreading and I was most uncomfortable. I thought I would go crazy. All my friends were telling me I would lose my hands unless I found the right treatment."

"One day I read in the Messenger about your D. D. D. treatment and asked for a sample. It did me so much good that I immediately ordered two large bottles. It took eight bottles altogether to cure me of this terrible disease. I shall never be without a bottle of D. D. D. in my home."

The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most severe cases show that D. D. D. stands to-day as the absolutely reliable eczema cure. Write to-day for free trial bottle to the D. D. D. Laboratories, Dept. V. T., 49 Colborne St., Toronto. It will give you instant relief. C. H. Bowes, 1238 Government street.

DISFIGURED FOR LIFE!

Mothers Should Realize What Neglect of Skin-Troubles
May Mean to Children.

A lifetime of disfigurement and suffering often results from the neglect, in infancy or childhood, of minor affections of the skin and scalp. A mother overlooks a little rash or attempts some simple treatment and in a day, perhaps, the little one is covered with severe eczema or a similar distressing eruption. Then the struggle for a cure begins.
A multitude of remedies are tried, doctor
after doctor consulted and hospitals visited, but too often the suffering extends, without substantial relief, from days to weeks, weeks to months and months to years. Added to this is the ever-present fear that the itching, burning and disfigurement will become chronic, marring future welfare and making life miserable.
In the prevention of the simple skin troubles from which all this suffering so often arises and in establishing a condition of skin health that makes eruptions impossible, mothers are assured that nothing is purer, sweeter or more effective than Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And greater still, if possible, is the success of these simple household remedies in the treatment of the severest skin affections themselves. With the first warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment, the itching and burning of eczema ceases, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests and for the first time, possibly, in many weeks peace falls on a distracted household. Frequently a single cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are sufficient.

Positive as is this statement, it is justified by more than thirty years of pronounced success. To quote but a single instance,
Robert Mann, of Proctor, Minnesota, says:
"Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct.
13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until his entire face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin. We tried about every advertised remedy without avail, included some of them only and to his suffering and one in particular, the ——— Remedy, brought out the blisters into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to bathe the baby in buttermilk. This did not do any good, so we took him to a hospital.
He was treated as an out-patient twice a week and he got worse, if anything. We decided that it could not be cured and must run its course and so we just kept his arms bandaged to his side to prevent his tearing his flesh.
We left Toronto and shortly after our arrival in Duluth, the Cuticura Remedies were recommended. We started using them in May, 1909, and soon the cure was complete.
You would not think he was the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the skin disease. There has been no return. We still use only Cuticura Soap for baby's bath."

Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Pills are sold by druggists everywhere. Send to Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for a free copy of

As a tribute of respect and regret for the victims in the appalling disaster to the Inverclyde, the musical of the Ladies of the Choral class, for which invitations have already been issued for the 19th inst., will be postponed to another date to be announced later. The usual Thursday evening rehearsal also will not be held this week, but will take place on Saturday, April 15th, as previously arranged.

A meeting to form an associate membership of ladies to the Victoria Cricket club was held on Monday morning at the Balmoral hotel. Among those present were Mrs. P. A. E. Irving, Mrs.
Kirkbride, Mrs. Hebbden Gillespie, Mrs.
Musket, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Beauchamp Tye, Mrs. Foulkes, Mrs. Genge, Mrs. Napier Hibben, Mrs. Fell, Miss
Pooley, Miss Paula Irving, and Miss Devereux. Mr. Coates, secretary of the Victoria Cricket club, was present and briefly outlined what associate members had done in other cities, and the reason for forming such a society in Victoria. The main object was to revive the interest formerly taken in cricket. Mrs. Irving was elected chairman, and the installation of officers took place as follows: Hon. presidents, Mrs. P. A. E. Irving and Mrs. George Gillespie; president, Mrs. Hebbden Gillespie; vice-president, Mrs. Genge;
treasurer, Miss Pooley; secretary, Mrs.
Beauchamp Tye; executive, Mrs. Luxton, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Alexis Martin, Mrs. L. S. V. York, and Mrs. Foulkes.

The annual fee it was decided to make two dollars, and all present pledged themselves to secure five members before the next meeting. All those present were most enthusiastic and eagerly discussed different plans to make cricket attractive, and to revive the interest taken in former years. An opening day will be held on May 5, when the ladies will serve tea during the afternoon at the Jubilee Hospital grounds.
After some further discussion the meeting adjourned until April 24, when a meeting will be held at the Balmoral hotel at 11 a. m.

PASSING SHOW

Empress Theatre.
A special new programme is offered for the mid-week, consisting of four films, the fourth clue to the treasure hunt and four new graphophone records. The new management have to announce their good fortune in securing the services of Mrs. Adiant, the well known Victorian pianist. Mrs. Adiant stands at the top of her profession in this city, her forte being her unique capacity for adapting her music to the moving picture scenes. This is a special talent which few have.

One of the most laughable pictures in the moving picture world, Kalem's
"Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" is being shown. The picture shows the frantic efforts of an excitable individual to keep an appointment with his lawyer, in the course of which he meets with innumerable difficulties. This picture keeps the audience in one long roar of laughter.

Lovers of the tragic and dramatic will be taken with "A Sin Unpardon-able," the scene of which is laid in the Canadian lumber lands. As an exhibition of the elemental passions of human nature in its purity, this picture is one of the strongest that has appeared for months.

"The River Sculptors" is an Edison picture of ancient Athens and "Loen-so the Wolf," a fierce story of Italy in the middle ages.

A new ticket system has been inaugurated to relieve the pressure, and extensive alterations will be made which will add one hundred seats to the capacity of the hall. These alterations have been rendered imperative by the increased popularity of the theatre under the new management.

Majestic Theatre.
"The Escape from the Tulleries" depicts the governor of the Tulleries at the time of the reign of terror. He is warned by his friend that the palace is to be sacked by the mob, but he will not leave his post. In the riotous scenes which follow, he escapes in the dress of a dead Republican and is hidden by a kind-hearted woman of the people. "The Preacher's Wife" is the story of a preacher who forgot the love of his profession was supposed to teach and deprived his young wife of the things for which she longed. Unable to tolerate his severity she leaves him and goes home. The lesson proves salutary and reconciliation is effected after a time.

"How Mary Met the Cow Punchers" is a western drama, with cowboys and a girl from Boston, who rather looks over their heads until they rescue her self and companion from a ticklish position with a band of Indians. "Practical Brook Trout Breeding" is a picture of universal interest and instruction and very entertaining. "Heart's Hunger Happiness" is a comedy presenting the adventures of a love-lorn youth for whom fasting is prescribed as a cure.

Romano Photoplay Theatre.
"Maze of Fate" is the headline at the above theatre for Wednesday and Thursday. The sensational plunge over the falls by the victim of the wrath of plotting villains furnishes one of the most thrilling pictures ever thrown upon a screen. A young lawyer sets about it to prove the innocence of an old drunkard, and succeeds in an original way. He also wins the love of the daughter, who is doomed to disappointment by the death of a hero in a highly dramatic manner. A story of the west, with a strong plot and heart interest.

"At the Bar U Ranch" is an exciting western drama. "Tontini as a Law Student," a good comedy. "Hamburg to Blankens," a good scenic picture taken on the Elbe river. "Good Agency" is a roasting comedy. "Pete Play's Billiards" is also a good comedy.

"The Rosary" is the song which Miss England will sing. The Romano orchestra will furnish the music for the pictures.

Crystal Theatre.
The programme for to-day and Thursday is by far the largest and best the management of the Broad street house has yet exhibited. One of the greatest plays ever written will be shown as the feature film. It is a Francisco classic entitled "Silas Marner," founded on George Eliot's well-known novel. Silas makes a fortune, loses it and recovers it again. Once he thought that money meant everything in the world, but now he understands that the shining heaps of gold are not worth one strand of his daughter's sunny hair. The money is hers, for she is his,

and he now knows that love is a treasure no man can buy.
"The Maid's Revenge" (great Solax comedy) is laughable. "Warwick Chronicle" is a new film manufactured
after the same style as the Gazette, sharing the latest weekly events.
"Tweedledum Plays a Tragical Part," is an extremely funny release acted by the world's greatest comedian. "The Merry Widow Hat," "Pigmy World,"
"How Penny Won the Beauty Contest" and "Pete Will Commit Suicide" are very good films by the Gaiety Co.
"The Doubt" is a Vergil drama of unusual quality.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

"Yet where an equal poise of hope and fear"

Does arbitrate the event, my nature is That I incline to hope rather than fear."

—Milton.

The day, on which her first spring picnic had been promised to
my small niece,
Rosalie, dawned
wet and dismal.

The excursion was to be in the afternoon and the verdict handed down early in the morning by the foreman of the jury—in other words,
Rosale's mother—was "We will go if it clears up enough."

As a consequence an immediate consultation of the weather man and the weather vane was instituted.

From the last forecast Rosalie burst into the living room radiant.
"Oh, mother," she announced, "I'm just sure it's going to clear off."

"Why are you so sure, dear?"
"Of course we all laughed at that last, and yet after all wasn't there more to think about than to laugh at it?"

I don't suppose Rosalie's radiant belief that the sun would shine "because I want it to do so," had any palpable effect upon the weather, but it certainly did on Rosalie.

I don't suppose it made the sun shine outdoors, but it certainly created a lot of sunshine in the house with Rosale's shining eye and upward curving lips playing the role of the sun.

I can't think the little girl's prophecy was foolish. I think it was beautiful.

I only hope she continues all through her life to forecast events in that way.

I fancy that if she does there may be many conditions, less super-human, than the weather that she may indeed influence by her belief in a happy outcome of affairs "because I want it so."

Hope is a wonderful magnet wherewith to attract one's heart's desire into one's possession.

They who do not use it are doubly depriving themselves. First of its power as an inward magnet to attract happiness and second of its outward power to attract success.

For surely the man who is positive success must come "because I want it so," is far more apt to win out than he who will not hope.

An emphatic denial of the declaration, "There's a divinity that shapes our ends, rough-hew them how we will," an emphatic assertion of the power of each man to govern his own fate—these are the chief tenets of the new thought doctrines that are taking such a hold upon the twentieth century.

"Each man is the divinity that shapes his ends, rough-hew them how fate will"—with all apologies to Shakespere—is the modern version.

And in his shaping, surely man can have no better tool than hope, than a radiant belief that things must come out right because he wants them so.
Oh, by the way, I almost forgot to say that the sun did come out most gloriously and Rosalie had her picnic.

Gertrude Elliott in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow."

Miss Gertrude Elliott (Mrs. Forbes-Robertson) gets, on an average, twenty notes a day from young women desirous of making the acquaintance of the little star of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," which comes to the Victoria theatre to-morrow evening.

The play seems to make a particular appeal to women. All of these letters are answered, and if Miss Elliott has to deny the requests for personal interviews it is only because her time would be entirely taken up in this way if she would see every girl who writes her. Now and then, however, some letter-writer, by the force of the appeal, does get to see Miss Elliott and this was the case with a certain lady who wrote the actress of her ambition to go on the stage, and requested advice. Miss Elliott saw her in her dressing room and told her a few plain truths.

"Frankly," said Miss Elliott, "I do not believe stage work is for all who think they should attempt it, and there are many reasons why it is so. Of course, there are a great many for whom the life, with its ambitions and hopes, is well fitted, and you get proof of that in looking around at the numbers of cultured women of the stage in private life. But believe me, these are in the very very small minority. To get alone on the stage they had to be indifferent to toil and worry and disappointment and suffering, indifferent to temptation and indifferent to environment. Or, maybe, it is because they have been capable of getting above these drawbacks, and withstanding the slings and arrows. If you think you can get over these barriers, come along and see what you can do on the stage. If your heart is faint, go back to your embroidery. It is pretty work and absolutely dangerous."

Marie Dressler

Marie Dressler and her company of more than one hundred people who will be seen at the Victoria theatre for a two-night engagement, beginning April 18, enjoy the distinction of having travelled by special train ever since they sailed forth from the Lew Fields' Herald Square Theatre, New York, where they played for 189 performances, and come here with a record unsurpassed by any musical company organization now before the public.

The company is almost the largest on the road to-day and there are four baggage-cars required to house the scenery and properties. This necessitates a special train for every movement that is made. As a rule the special train consists of one private car for Miss Dressler, four Pullmans for the company, the four baggage-cars and a diner. As the movements of this aggregation are necessarily hurried, the railroad always manage to give "Dillie's Special," as the railroad men know it, a clear track and plenty of speed.

Sheffield Choir

One of the most important musical events that has yet taken place in the musical history of this country is the visit of the Sheffield Choir which is now singing in eastern Canada and will visit Victoria May 17 and 18.

It is difficult to estimate the results of this great enterprise. Apart from the artistic effect of the tour there is the further result to be obtained of the bringing into contact the various parts of the Empire, and this can by no means be exaggerated. It is generally admitted that the promotion of the spirit of international brotherhood is one of the best means of bringing about the extense cordial not only with foreign nations but between the integral portions of the Empire. Consequently the tour of the Sheffield Choir is bound to have the most far-reaching effects, not only in fostering a unity of sentiment, but also in promoting greater commercial reciprocity with England.

It was in the Autumn of 1906 that the first of the tours of the Sheffield Choir took place, when, under the conductorship of Dr. Coward, the members of this world famous choral organization paid a visit to Germany, when they were received with the greatest enthusiasm in all the cities that they visited.

Profiting by the experience that had been thus gained, the choir, with Dr. Harris as director and Dr. Coward, as conductor paid a brief visit to Canada, and gained a reception that was full of enthusiasm. Although the largest auditoriums in the large cities that were visited were engaged, these were packed to their utmost capacity and some instances hundreds were turned away owing to the lack of sufficient seating space. Few of those who were present at the concerts which were then given will forget the scenes of enthusiasm that then took place, and the progress of the choir was one of a long continued triumph.

Mischa Elman

At rare intervals, in the world of music, a genius flashes into view. Two years ago such an event occurred when Mischa Elman, a seventeen-year-old Russian boy, made his American debut as a matured artist and swept critics and laymen alike into frenzied enthusiasm by his playing. Even those who knew but little of music were equally impressed by the new emperor of violins; for the magic of his bow and fingers sent a musical message that was comprehensible to a child.

To-day, Mischa Elman is recognized as the greatest living violinist. There are musicians who assert that, directly, Elman will efface every superlative mark ever established by the greatest players who have gone before, standing supreme, not merely as the wonder of his age, but as the violin genius of all ages. Early this year Elman played in recital at Queen's Hall, London, and astounded the public which had heard him four years before when he was not quite fifteen. It had been expected that he would develop into the foremost performer of his time, but few had believed he would come into his own so quickly. And so, to give full expression to their deepest feelings, these phlegmatic English folk surrounded the stage in a demonstration that is declared never to have been equaled at a concert given on British soil. "Elman has not only tone of unsurpassable quality and unerring technique," declares the London Westminster Gazette, "but also that intuitive sense of musicianship which seems to enable some lucky ones to do instinctively, and without the smallest trace of effort, what in the case of others is arrived at only by the severest toil and study."

Chevalier Coming

Arrangements have been definitely completed by which Albert Chevalier, the great character actor and England's highest salaried artist, will visit Western Canada under the direction of Frederic Shipman. The tour, which will be a very limited one, will open at the Walker theatre, Winnipeg, on May 22 and will extend to Victoria, including only the larger points between these cities.

Chevalier's coming may be regarded as a distinct event. Foremost among English actors, incomparable as a delineator of coarser and cockney types, he occupies a position peculiarly and positively his own. The interest already shown since the first announcement of Chevalier's prospective tour, satisfactorily demonstrates to Mr. Shipman that he is correct in his contention that nowhere in the English-speaking world will the people respond more readily for the great artist than in the Canadian West.

PROPOSED INVESTIGATION

U. S. Representative Moves for Inquiry Into Department of Justice Affairs.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Seeking particularly to know whether Attorney-General Wickersham has any "outside employment" which would disqualify him from this cabinet position, Representative Rainey of Illinois yesterday introduced a resolution designed to open the way for a thorough investigation of the department of justice.

The resolution referred to the committee on rules, provides that a committee of nine—six Democrats and three Republicans—conduct the investigation and asks an appropriation of $15,000 to cover the expense. It directs a thorough inquiry into all cases instituted under the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad rate law, and to ascertain what cases, if any, were dropped, and the reasons.

Mr. Rainey's resolution also contemplates an inquiry into the appropriation of the department for the em-

ENGLISH SNOBS AS SEEN AT HOME

NATION SUFFERS LOSS
QUITE INCALCULABLE

Plain Statement of Facts in Letter to English Paper by Irate Correspondent

The characteristic of a certain class in England who make life intolerable by "coddishness" is scathingly denounced in a letter to the London Times from the vicar of St. Clements, Fulham. It sets forth a grievance which affects other parts of the globe and is reproduced below:

Sir,—Your account of the working man's son driven from one of our many thousand schools of snobs makes me reading. But no one who knows anything at all of what may be regarded as in some ways the greatest problem of our time will be in the least surprised. This same snobbishness to which the boy Hill has fallen a victim is a kind of blight in the lives of many hundreds of our fellow-countrymen, particularly wounding to the young and hopeful, leaving on their hearts indelible scars and—what, in the estimation of some, will be more to the point—spoiling brilliant careers and robbing our Empire of the devotion of beautiful lives.

I come in contact with a large number of lads, and I can speak with certainty of the evil effects of snobbishness on the life of the young. One lad I know, a tradesman's son of more than average ability, refused point-blank to go to Oxford, although his parents were people of ample means, preferring his liberty in the cramped conditions of a city office. Another, whose father has made a large fortune by combined genius, perseverance and honorable dealing, has been sent to one of the younger universities, presided over by a scholar of world-wide fame, where he is not so likely to be "looked down upon."

Still another, now reading for one of the learned professions, whose father was a London merchant of comparative wealth, distinct ability and universally recognized integrity, confessed to me that his life was made so unbearable at a boarding school, much patronized by the sons of small army-men, doctors, lawyers, and indigent curates that he begged his parents to send him to another school, with such earnestness—vowing that he would run away if his request were not acceded to—that at length he was permitted to have his way. This high-spirited and sensitive lad endured at the hands of his school-fellows, who were for the most part inferior to him, as a matter of fact, in almost every possible respect, indignities quite incredible to those who may not be conversant with the particularly vicious sort of cad one meets at these "schools for the sons of gentlemen."

The loss which we suffer as a nation from snobbishness of the kind must be quite incalculable. To say that the ranks of the professional classes must suffer largely is to express oneself with extreme mildness. No section of our national existence is free from this intolerable spirit. Even in the Church, where, of all places, it ought to be conspicuous by its absence, its action is like dry rot. The exclusiveness of the Anglican Church, who endeavor to create, and actually do create, artificial distinctions between one clergyman and another, irrespective of native ability or acquired education? A. B. is "all right" for he can put "M.A." after his name. But C. D.? He can't help it, poor chap, but there it is! Yet he is extraordinarily well read, a good all-round fellow, and a capital preacher. As for E. F., he took an admirable degree which meant a lot of hard grinding, don't you know; but did you ever hear of a duke going to his "Varsity"? Now, did you?

Yes, snobbishness is undoubtedly the cause of much of the slowness of our development as a nation. It stands directly in the way of our advancement, and has an infinite amount to answer for in the middle of the road. We always seem to be in a political, social, and even religiously. Oh, the wicked waste of it all! Thanks where snobbishness seems to me so unpardonable, it throws such a lot of the best stuff into the gutter. Believing, as I do, in an "Eternal Providence," I am quite sure that we shall, one of these days, have to answer at the Bar of the Supreme Court for the shameful thriftlessness of which we have thus been guilty. It is time we turned over a new leaf, began a fresh chapter of our national career, cleared the obstinate film of prejudice from our eyes, stanch at the very source and fountain of our national greatness, namely, the school, the reckless casting away of energy, enthusiasm, splendid devotion. Let us peremptorily shut the mouth of every boy or man who dares to say that his fellow boy or man is inferior to him on account of the mere accident of birth; and let us remember that we Christians are supposed to be redeemed from the childish snobbishness which made a wreck of the grand old Roman Republic, and that our redemption in this regard has been effected by one called Jesus of Nazareth, whose Mother was the wife of a carpenter, and who Himself was brought up to that honorable trade. "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Well—I

CANADA AND BRITISH PREFERENCE

Question of Changes Will Be Discussed Until the Trade Agreement is Ratified

Ottawa, April 12.—In the Commons this afternoon, in reply to R. L. Borden, Hon. W. S. Fielding said the question of any further changes in the tariff, relative to the British preference would not be taken up till after the reciprocity agreement had been ratified.

The minister added that any changes would be of minor importance and the government had no intention of increasing the preference all round to fifty per cent.

INSURGENTS AND SOLDIERS CLASH

Six Killed in Engagements—Investigating Reports Regarding Prisoners

San Antonio, Texas, April 12.—A report was received by the insurgents today that small forces of federal and insurgent troops met last Monday at a village of Palao, on the railroad south of Eagle Pass, and in the engagement that followed four federal and two insurgent were killed.

Will Investigate.
San Diego, Cal., April 12.—News from Washington is to the effect that Senator Perkins of California, chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, has taken up the matter, personally with Secretary of State Knox the subject of the imprisonment of G. Raff, his wife and five children, of this city, who are imprisoned at Alamo, Lower California, by the insurgents, who have been charged with grave indignities toward the prisoners.

Secretary Knox, the information states, has wired the United States consul at Ensenada to make an immediate investigation and report. American Consul Geo. B. Schrecher has telegraphed to Henry Savage, brother-in-law of Mrs. Raff, that he will personally investigate the conditions in Alamo toward the prisoners.

More Pay for Soldiers.
Mexico City, April 12.—After next Saturday every private in the Mexican army will receive one peso a day, which is ten centimes more than he now receives. General Manuel Cosío, secretary of war, yesterday sent all division commanders circulars announcing this increase.

Commissioned and non-commissioned officers also share in the increase. First sergeants will receive two pesos a day, and it is unofficially said the commanding officers in the field are to receive one peso a day more than they are now paid.

TWO KIDNAPPERS NOW IN PRISON

Uncle of Stolen Boy Implicated in Affair—Shared Ransom With Companion

Las Vegas, N. M., April 12.—The confessions of Joe Wiggins, a former life convict in the New Mexico penitentiary, and of Will Rogers, uncle of the stolen child, last night cleared up the mystery surrounding the kidnapping of two-year-old Waldo Rogers, son of A. T. Rogers, Jr., of Las Vegas, and grandson of L. L. Waldo, a Kansas City millionaire, who on the night of March 29, was taken from his mother at the Rogers home by masked men and returned the following day upon the payment of $12,000 ransom.

According to Wiggins, the kidnapping was planned by Rogers and executed by himself. In the absence of the boy's father negotiations with the kidnapers were placed in the hands of his brother-in-law by the mother and to him was entrusted the $12,000 to be paid, as it now develops, to himself and Wiggins. In his confession Rogers revealed the hiding place of the ransom money and it has been recovered. Wiggins' confession followed his arrest here yesterday.

Rogers was arrested on the strength of Wiggins' confession and later confessed his part in the kidnapping. Indignation was at high pitch and threats of lynching were frequently uttered. Last night's developments have revived the feeling, and the county jail where Rogers and Wiggins are confined is guarded by a heavy force of deputies in the fear of a mob. The two prisoners, it is believed, will be taken to the penitentiary at Santa Fe to-day for safekeeping.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR TWO CELEBRATIONS

Victoria Day to Be Observed—"Coronation Carnival"
 is Proposed

It was determined at a public meeting held last evening at the city hall that two celebrations shall be held this year—one in commemoration of Victoria Day, May 24, and another on the date of the coronation of His Majesty King George V. This latter will take the form of a carnival, provincial in its scope, arrangements for which will be in the hands of the Daughters of the Empire.

Mayor Morley presided at the meeting last evening and there was a good attendance. Mrs. Hasell and Mrs. Croft were present on behalf of the Daughters of the Empire to explain the proposals for the coronation carnival.

Mrs. Croft said that nothing had as yet been definitely decided, but the aim was to give Victorians something of a reflection of the pomp and pageantry of the ceremony which would centre at London. The enterprise was one, in her opinion, which should enlist the support of all loyal citizens.

The mayor heartily agreed with Mrs. Croft as to the desirability of the people of Victoria co-operating in such a patriotic movement. In his opinion the Daughters of the Empire should be entrusted with the arrangement of all the details of the affair. He promised to aid the enterprise in every way in his power.

Mrs. Hasell said what the Daughters of the Empire had in mind was a "Coronation Carnival." While the pageant would of necessity in a general way include the whole of the Dominion it would refer particularly to British Columbia. There would be recorded, among other historical events, the coming of Vancouver. Cook's arrival in the North Pacific; the life of the fur traders of the Hudson's Bay Co. in the early days, the exploits of such frontiersmen as Alexander McKenzie and Simon Fraser, the arrival of Governor Douglas, the famous rush of gold seekers into the Cariboo country, and the confederation of Canada.

All sections of the province would be asked to join in making the carnival a success. Every local society was to be extended a similar invitation. Everyone would be expected to assist in some way. As for the finances the provincial government had promised aid providing it was to be of a general character, and the sum of the tentative programme was sufficient to show that it was.

The city, of course, was to be invited to make an appropriation. A resolution heartily endorsing the project was unanimously carried.

In respect to the Victoria Day celebration, his worship expressed the opinion that the city council might be asked to appropriate the sum of $2,000 for this purpose. This would not interfere with the council making a grant in aid of the coronation carnival.

It was thereupon decided to ask the council to grant the sum mentioned for a celebration on Victoria Day, and the following general committee, with power to add to its numbers, was named: A. J. Dallas, W. H. Price, J. Kirkpatrick, Alderman Bishop, C. H. Lugin, Mr. McDonald, Ald. Langley and Lieut.-Col. Currie. J. B. McCallum, who acted as secretary last year, was unanimously re-appointed to the position.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVY POLICY.

Governor-General's Views Conflict With Those of Commonwealth Government.

Melbourne, April 12.—The governor-general, the Earl of Dudley, speaking at Sydney, made some interesting references to the question of the defence of the Commonwealth and the best method of securing the country's safety.

The Governor-General said he believed that Australia could best help itself by helping Britain to maintain her naval supremacy. Therefore, he believed that the federal navy should be available for the purpose of co-operating with the home government's forces at any desired time and place.

The speech of the Earl of Dudley has aroused considerable comment, as, to some extent, at any rate, it conflicts with the policy of the government as enunciated by the head of the ministry, Mr. Fisher.

PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY.

Hon. Dr. Young Outlines Plans for Future Work.

Vancouver, April 12.—Speaking here last night at a banquet at Westminster Hall, Hon. Dr. Young, minister of education, referred to the new British Columbia University, to the steps which have been taken in 1907 in regard to the establishment of the proposed university, to the constitution of the committee, and to the publication of that committee's report.

LOSES APPEAL.

Winnipeg, April 11.—R. A. C. Manning has lost his appeal in his case against the city for $4,500 in payment for his services in connection with the high pressure investigation. He had appealed from an adverse finding of the King's bench.
